WORKINGMEN'S RIGHTS capital nor to outrage the person of an employer, never to employ vio-

Voice of the Holy Father Labor and Capital.

dencies.

The Great Mistakes Made of Supposing That Class Is Hostile to Class-All Should Live in Harmony.

In such times as these, when the worth preserving:

masses; the increased self-reliance tion. The momentous seriousness of tical men propose schemes; popular there is nothing which has a deeper hold on public attention.

To remedy these evils the Socialists, working on the poor man's envy of the rich, endeavor to destroy private property and maintain that individual possessions should become administered by the State or by mu- be sacred in proportion to their tion and disgust, raise its foot and thus transferring property from pr vate persons to the community the SEVENTH GRAND ASSEMBLY. present evil state of things will be set to rights, because each citizen Annual Meeting of Delegates of the will then have his equal share of whatever there is to enjoy. But for all practical purposes that if they were carried out the working man himself would be among the first to evening, and remain in session for suffer. Moreover they are emphati- the two subsequent nights. A numcally unjust, because they would rob ber of amendments to the Constituthe lawful possessor, bring the State into a sphere that is not its own and cers for the ensuing term are the cause complete confusion in the community.

The great mistake that is made in the matter now under consideration is to possess oneself of the idea that class is naturally hostile to class; that rich and poor are intended by nature to live at war with one another. So irrational and so false is this view that the exact contrary is the truth. Just as the symmetry of the human body is the result of the disposition of the members of the body so in a State it is ordained by nature that these two classes should exist in harmony and agreement, and should, as it were, fit into one another so as to maintain the equilibrium of the body politic. Each requires the other; capital cannot do without labor, nor labor without capital. Mutual agreement results in pleasantness and good order; perpetual conflict necessarily produces confusion and outrage. Now in preventing such strife as this and scribers and others who may not in making it impossible the efficacy find it convenient to call at the editoof Christianity is marvelous and rial rooms of the California Cath- elected. The names I will send to manifold. First of all there is noth- olic at 536 Clay street, we have ing more powerful than religion (of made arrangements with A. Wald- paper. And as these newly elected which the church is the interpreter teusel, 721 Market street, to act as officers are all young men who have and guardian) in drawing rich and agent for the paper. Mr. Waldteufel always been most regular in their poor together by reminding each has full authority to receive and re- attendance at the meetings and most class of its duties to the other and ceipt for moneys for this paper, and enthuaiastic workers for the society's eepecially of the duties of justice. make contracts for advertising. He good, it is confidently expected that Thus religion teaches the laboring will give full information regarding the coming year will be one of unman and the workman to carry out it. Parties desiring sample copies precedented success in the history of honestly and well all equitable agree- will be cheerfully accommodated by the society. ments freely made, never to injure Mr. Waldteufel.

lence in representing his own cause nor to engage in riot or disorder, and to have nothing to do with men of evit principles who work upon the Young Men of St. Patrick's people with artful promises and raise foolish hopes which usually end in disaster and in repentance when too late. Religion teaches the rich man Evil Effects of Socialist Ten- and the employer that their work Religious and intellectual Im people are not their slaves; that they must respect in every man his dignity as a man and as a Christian; that labor is nothing to be ashamed Christian philosophy, but is an honorable employment, enabling a man to sustain his life in an upright and creditable way, and that it is shameful and inhuman to treat men like relations between capital and labor chattels to make money by or to look are strained, when on every side are upon them merely as so much musheard the murmurings of discontent, cle or physical power. Thus again the fact that at the present time, in nothing can be more opportune than religion teaches that as among the almost every parish in the city socito recall the words of his Holiness workman's concerns are religion her-Leo XIII as given to the world in self and things spiritual and mental his famous encyclical on labor. The the employer is bound to see that the For some time past we have occafollowing pertinent extracts are well workman has time for the duties of sionally read of meetings held and piety; that he be not exposed to corrupting influences and dangerous oc. ent young societies. At one time it It is not surprising that the spirit casions, and that he be not led away of revolutionary change which has to neglect his home and family or to Young Men's Society of St. Francis' so long been predominant in the na- squander his wages. Then again the Parish; again, a social by that of St. tions of the world should have employer must never tax his work Dominic's; then a banquet by Holy passed beyond politics and made its people beyond their strength nor em- Cross or a street parade by St. influence felt in the cognate field of ploy them in work unsuited to their Charles', and so on. Even from far practical economy. The elements of sex or age. His great and principal off St. Paul's, and the country disa conflict are unmistakable; the obligation is to give to every one trict surrounding "Old St. Mary's growth of industry and the sur- that which is just. Doubtless before College" reports come to us that the prising discoveries of science; the we can decide whether wages are zealous priests of those parishes have changed relations of masters and adequate many things have to be their young men in line with the reworkmen; the enormous fortunes of considered; but rich men and masters quirements of the times. Now all individuals and the poverty of the should remember this: that to exerthis is really encouraging to the cise pressure for the sake of gain upon young men and to all who take an and the closer mutual combination the indigent and destitute, and to interest in them, for it clearly shows of the working population; and, make one's profit out of the needs of that the different pastors of these finally, a general moral deteriora- another is condemned by all laws, respective parishes are alive to the human and divine. To defraud any fact that the young men of today the present state of things just now one of wages that are his due is a must be safe-guarded against the fills every mind with painful appre- crime which cries to the avenging evil tendencies that surround them. hension; wise men discuss it; praclangel of heaven. "Behold, the hire of the laborers * * * which by what the Catholic young men today meetings, legislatures and sovereign fraud hath been kept back by you have to fear most, is not that bigprinces all are occupied with it—and crieth, and the cry of them hath en- otry—hideous, heartless, unreasontered into the ears of the Lord of ing bigotry - which with drawn Sabaoth."—(I St. James, v. 4.) Fi- sword tries to impede their progress; nally, the rich must religiously relit is not that spirit of un-Americanfrain from cutting down the work- ism or A. P. Aism that we have to man's earnings either by force, by fear, even though with its poisonous fraud or by usurious dealing, and fangs it is ready to deal out death with the more reason because the and destruction, for the great body Joseph's Hall Sunday afternoon. poor man is weak and unprotected of the intelligent American people the common property of all, to be and because his slender means should must soon, in a moment of indigna-

Young Men's Catholic Union.

The Seventh Grand Assembly of their proposals are so clearly futile | the Young Men's Catholic Union will meet at Fraternity Hall, Shiel's Building, 32 O'Farrell, on Monday tion and the election of Grand Offimost important matters to be considered.

An interesting feature of the Grand Assembly will be the awarding and presentation of two magnificent badges to the members who have, during the year, secured the greatest number of new members. The fortunate ones are James J. Keating of Leo Assembly, No. 4, and Richard Roach of St. Patrick Assembly, No. 5

The present Grand Officers are: Edward Luby, Past Grand President; P. H. Hanrahan, Grand President; Dr. T. H. Morris, Grand First Vice President: A. H. Giannini, Grand Second Vice President: S. Haskins, Grand Secretary; James English, Grand Treasurer; M. Rodgers, Grand Marshal; N. Fitzgerald, Dr. T. F. Brennan, J. J. Dunnigan and A. J. Bolger, Trustees.

NOTICE TO OUR PATRONS.

For the convenience of our sub-

THRIVING SOCIETY

Well Organized.

provement.

of if we listen to right reason and to Preparing For Their Coming Quarterly Communion-Its Previous Successful Affairs.

Nothing is more gratifying to those who take an interest in the Catholic eties for young men are either in existence or in process of formation. entertainments given by these differwas a literary entertainment by the

But it must be borne in mind that rush this serpent's head. No, noth ing is to be feared from these, either fear most of all today is the chilling, the paralysing effect of constant and familiar association with thousands acting as escort. who either profess no faith at all, or who hold one different from ours. It is to counteract, as far as possible, this evil influence that the Young Men's Societies have been formed and are maintained throughout the city.

It was my privilege lately to attend one of the regular monthly meetings of one of these societies, and I must say that I was both edified and instructed. It was a meeting of the Young Men's Society of St. Patrick's Parish. This is a society which is working most energetically and successfully. It is going quietly along, attracting no public attention and desiring none, but withal gaining strength with length of days. The monthly meetings are unique, and both instructive and attractive. Although the moral improvement of the members is the principal object for which the society was formed and is attained by the monthly instructions and the quarterly communion, yet the intellectual improvement is not neglected, but on the contrary, forms one of its very useful features. The monthly meetings are made most interesting to the members by the literary exercises-debates, essays, recitationsand by innocent and social amuse-

At the last meeting of this society officers for the coming term were you for the next number of your will take place on Monday evening, August 6th in the Sodality Hall of the church, and a very large attendance of members is expected, as a very select and enjoyable program is arranged for that occasion. Sunday August 12th will be communion Sunday for the society as a body, and it is the earnest and the prayerful wish of the Spiritual Director, that every young man whose name is on the membership Affects Only the Diocese roll may receive Holy Communion on that day.

The next regular monthly meeting olic. $1.50 per year.

The society has had many successes within the last few months, but it was not for successes such as these that the society was established, and hence it must be looked upon as a failure, if the end of its formation be not kept in view-the spiritual advancement of the members. Two months ago an excursion to the country was given under the auspices of the young men composing this society, and its success was beyond all hope, over 2000 enjoying the day which the young men had arranged for them. Since then as a Society they took part in the Grand Parade of the "Young Men's Institute," and their presence that day in such numbers, dressed in becoming costume, together with their soldierly appearance when in line, merited and received many warm congratu-

On these occasions they did more than was expected of them; but now a far more important occasion than either of these is at hand; let us hope that if they do not exceed, they will at least equal the expectations of those who are interested in their welfare-that they will on Sunday, August 12th, do honor to themselves and the Society to which they belong by receiving Holy Communion iu a body at the 8 o'clock mass.

LEAGUE OF THE CROSS. Grand Temperance Rally at St. Joseph' Hall.

The branches of the League of the Cross comprising the Second District, located in St. Joseph's, St. Charles and Mission Dolores parishes, and including the boys of the Youth's Directory on Howard street, held their first district rally at St.

The members of St. Joseph's Branch, to the number of 250, marched into the hall at 2 o'clock. The other branches of the district immediately followed, and composed now or ever; but what we have to a division of over 500 boys and young men, Company B of the League Cadets, in bright uniforms,

> The large hall was filled by members of the society from the other districts and by friends of the move-

Occupying seats on the platform were: Rev. Fathers P. Scanlan and J. Gleason of St. Joseph's, Rev. P. C. Yorke, Chancellor, and Rev. Father Dempsey of the Cathedral; Rev. P. E. Mulligan of St. Charles, Colonel William Sullivan of the League of the Cross Cadet regiment and other officers of the society.

The following program was rendered in excellent form, under the direction of A. B. Maguire, District Chairman:

Piano solo, Miss Annie Burns; hymn, "The Veni Creator"; opening prayer; recitation, Fred Farmer: vocal duet, Messrs. M. Brady and J Geary; character song and chorus, 'Roger, the "Tin-maker Man," St. oseph's Parochial School Boys' Choir; comic song, Walter Goldsmith; address, Judge Frank J. Murasky; overture, St. Charles' Young Men's Orchestra; national hymn, "America"; recitation, Private Walter Doyle of Company B, League Cadets; Kanaka song, Mission Dolores' Juvenile Choir; marching song and chorus, St. Joseph's Parochial School Drill Corps; hymn, the "Te Deum"; closing prayer.

The chief feature was the eloquent address of Judge Murasky, which, interspersed with anecdotes, was made very interesting and was listened to with rapt attention by the youthful auditors

An innovation was the congregational singing of the hymns led by Father Yorke. The entire audience, standing, participated in the singing with enthusiasm

THE LIQUOR QUESTION

Full Text of Monsignor Satolli's Decision.

Columbus.

Other Prelates Unite in Upholding the Action of the Papal Ablegate. Its Effects.

Monsignor Satolli, the Apostolic Delegate, has rendered a decision condemning the liquor traffic, especially as it is carried on in the United, States, and approving the exclusion of liquor-dealers from Catholic societies. This decision was called forth by an appeal from the ruling of BishopWatterson of Columbus, Ohio. In the last Lenten season, Bishop Watterson, who is one of the most Catholic Church, addressed a letter to the clergy of his diocese, to be read before their several congregations. The letter dealt wholly with the faithful; so it belongs to his power temperance problem. Bishop Wat- to command, prohibit, counsel or

"I hereby withdraw my approbation from any and every Catholic in this diocese that has a liquor-dealer or saloonkeeperatits head or anywhere among its officers, and I susits rank and privileges as a Catholic society until it ceases to be so offideclined to approve of new societies or new branches of old organizations mend itself to every right-spirited only in harmony with the laws of and healthy association of Catholic the Church, but they are also season-parish who call themselves Catholics, Ohio. and yet carry on their business in a any part of the community, you will perchance come to receive the sacrament, unless they promise to cease offending in these or other ways and to conduct their business blamelessly if they can, or get out of it and keep end bishop has decreed, confident out of it altogether."

society most affected appealed to the future but also in the present life. Apostolic delegate to have the action of Bishop Watterson reversed. On March 15, Mgr. Satolli replied to the letter of the Secretary of the society, and rendered his decision upholding Bishop Watterson.

resolved to appeal again to him and ing saloonkeepers from membership those seeking to spread total abstinin Catholic societies.

The appeal was presented with all Archbishop Satolli visited Columbus eration and decide on the petition.

answer by that date, and then wishregrets that he could not be present to greet the delegates.

The Bishop read the letter of the Apolostic Delegate first in Latin and then a translation of it in English. The delegates and congregation listened with intense interest. With even more interest listened Archbishop Elder and Bishop Horstmann, beeause the decision was news to them, as well as to the delegates, since Bishop Watterson had not communicated the decision to any one until he read it for the delegates, as he had requested that it be sent in time for the convention. Hence, in a certain sense, the letter of the Apostolic Delegate might be considered the property of the convention.

Following is the letter of Monsig. nor Satolli in full:

belongs to the office of a bishop to is a wrong or the occasion of sin. observe in his own diocese what is hurtful to the spiritual good of the permit to be done, or removed, whatever he judges to contribute to the discharge of his own duty and to the society or branch or division thereof good of the faithful. The letter or decree of the Bishop of Columbus concerning Catholic societies and the abstinence to be observed from into be subjected to the judgment of every private individual or of every cered. I again publish the conditions association of simple Catholics or without which for some years I have citizens; but every Catholic of good conscience must hold for certain that Its importance to Catholics may be in this diocese—namely, that no one things which seem to be for the Zahm considers it the most momentwho is engaged either as principal or greater good of the faithful and the agent in the manufacture and sale of honor of every Catholic society. intoxicating liquors can be admitted Those three things which are exto membership. You will make this pressed in the letter of the right revrule known to the organizations in erend bishop have the approval not your parish and have it faithfully ob. only of Catholics but non-Catholics served. It is sure, however, to com- of your city, because they are not forbidden and disedifying way, or sell right reverend bishop has command- Chapelle. This will be the third preon Sundays, either openly or under ed in his decree I approve and decide sentation of the Pallium in Santa Fe. any sort of guise or disguise, in vio- that they are to be observed. But if the first being when the lamented lation of civil law, and to the hurt of perhaps they, for the time being, seem Bishop Lamy was consecrated Archorder and religion and the scandal of to hurt the material interests of bishop. The second occasion was some, this will have to be patiently when the venerable and beloved. refuse them absolution should they borne for the good of the many and Bishop Salpointe was elevated to for the honor of our holy Catholic the same dignity. Apostolic Able-

Remain, therefore, of good will and obey faithfully what the right rever- to assist at the august ceremonial. that divine providence rewards the The circular letter made a stir. The spirit of obedience, not only in the

> Farewell in the Lord. FRANCIS ARCHBISHOP SATOLLI, Apostolic Delegate.

Bishop Watterson, after concluding the letter, said: "I received this most important letter on the 4th of July; Not satisfied, and thinking that hence it may be considered as a new possibly the Apostolic Delegate had Declaration of Independence." A not sufficient information, the society smile went around at this apt remark, and a ripple of applause was give a more extended statement of started, but immediately stopped its grievance. To make matters when the sanctity of the place was more secure it was resolved to get considered. Bishop Watterson said: Bishop Watterson to sign the appeal, "Were we assembled in any other verifying its statements. The Bishop place than the church, I would ask read it carefully and said, "Gentle- you to give three cheers for the Aposmen, I will sign your appeal most tolic Delegate, for I consider his decheerfully." He signed it too cheer- cision of the greatest importance to fully for the comfort of the appealers. the temperance cause in our country, They must have surmised that the the effect of which on priests and Bishop felt secure of his theological people must be most beneficial, givgrounds justifying him in prohibit- ing new heart and new courage to

The editor of the Wine and Spirit possible formality when last month Gazette challenged Archbishop Corrigan "to dare enforce in letter on other business. He stated that and spirit the decree against the he would give the matter due consid- liquor traffic just issued." To this the Archbishop sends the following, Bishop Watterson informed the worthy of a good prelate: In reply Apostolic Delegate that the State to your expressed wish I have the Convention of the C. T. A. U. was honor to say that I loyally accept to meet in Fremont on July 10, and, the principles laid down by Mgr. as he was to be present to address Satolli, both in their spirit and to Zach Montgomery was in the city the delegates, he would very much the letter. More than this, no Catho- this week, renewing acquaintance like to have his reply before that lic can refuse to accept them. As to with old friends. Prof. Montgomery Subscribe for the California Cath- time that he might announce the de- the fear of consequences, I have yet, is connected with St. Joseph's Semicision to the convention. The Apos- thank God, to learn what fear is in nary, Alvto, Humboldt county, tolic Delegate replied that he would the discharge of my duty. Please remember, however, that acceptance ed the Bishop to present his regards of principles is not to be confounded to the convention, and express his with the blind application of the same on all occasions and under all circumstances."

ence."

It has also been endorsed by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia; Archbishop Chappelle of New Mexico and Archbishop Elder of Cincinnatti.

Bishop Spalding of Peoria nuestions the advisability of excludng saloonmen from membership in Catholic societies. All the prelates unite in saying though, that the decision as far as its force is concerned, is merely local.

Mgr. Satolli has not declared it to be a principle that all saloon-keepers are to be expelled from Catholic societies, nor has he even declared this to be a law in the Church of the United States or extended it beyond the limits of the diocese of Columbus. Mgr. Satolli has not committed him-WASHINGTON, July 3, 1894.—Dear self to the principle that the liquor Sir:-In answer to your letter, which, traffic, absolutely speaking and together with the document inclosed stripped of its abuses, is wrong or therein (the bishop's letter), you an occasion of sin, nor has His Emihanded me during my stay in Colum- nence declared that the moderate use bus. As far as the general principle of it absolutely speaking and apart ardent temperance reformers in the is concerned you should know that it from its application to certain cases

CATHOLIC SCIENTISTS TO MEET. An International Congress at Brussels

Father Zahm a Delegate. Rev. J. A. Zahm, C. S. C., of Notre Dame University, sailed this week from New York to attend the sessions of the Third International Catholic Scientific Congress at Brussels. The selection of Father Zahm pend every such society itself from toxicating liquors ought by no means to this great gathering is a happy as delegate from the United States one, as he is admittedly the leading Catholic scientist in the country.

The Congress will open on September 4th, and will last about a week. ous event of the kind since the Vatican Council. It will be attended by Catholic scientists from all parts of the civilized world, the European delegates alone numbering about

To Receive the Pallium,

One of the grandest ceremonies of able and necessary to the honor of the Catholic Church will be celebra-"If there are saloonkeepers in your the Church, especially in the State of ted in Santa Fe during the coming fall, when the Pallium will be conupon the Most Rev. Bishop gate Satolli, Cardinal Gibbons and several other prelates are expected

In anticipation of this great event extensive improvement and additions are now in progress in and around the cathedral, and throughout the Territory elaborate preparations are eing made for the event.

Notice to Catholics.

The Supreme Court of Alabama has decided that the soul is not a legal entity. A resident of Mobile bequeathed $2000 to be used to obtain masses for the repose of his soul. The heirs objected. The court decreed that the bequest was void because there was no living beneficiary of the trust to execute it and enforce the performance of it, and the soul of the departed was not an entity in the contemplation of the law. Moral: Either give while you live or in your will mention some priest or bishop to take charge of the bequest and see that the masses are said.

Bishop Keane Coming West.

Bishop Keane, Rector of the Catholic University, is at present in Rome. On his return, in September, Bishop Keane proposes to resume his travels in the West, which circumstances obliged him to forego last spring. Between October and December he will preach and lecture at various points in Minnesota, Colorado, Montana, Arizona and Oregon.

Prof. John Montgomery, son of ional. Portions of a year pro-sais.

No papers sent to any address after expiration of time for which payment has been made.

Trade supplied by the San Francisco News Comke all cheer drafts, express and postoffice rs payable to HENRY I. FISHER, 536 Clay street, Francisco, Cal.

SATURDAY - AUG. 4, 1894

Order of the Forty-Hours Devotion In the Churches and Chapels in the Diocese of San Francisco, for the month or August.

August 5-Twelfth Sunday after Pente

Mt. Carmel, Redwood City. Sisters Holy Family Chapel, San Fran-

CALENDAR

For the Week Ending Saturday, Aug. 11 5-Sun. - Twelfth after Pentecost -Our Lady of the Snow, 366.

6-Mon.-The Transfiguration of Our 7-Tues.-St. Cajetan, F. (Theatines, 1547)—St. Donatus, Bp. M., 362.
—Web.—Bl. Peter Faber, S. J., 1546.
—Thur.—St. Romanus, Soldier, 258. 10-Fri.—St. Lawrence, Deacon, M. 259. 11-Sar.—St. Philomena, V. M., 300.

MONSIGNOR SATOLLI.

The Papal Delegate's Mission.

Under the heading "Satolli and the Saxon," the Presbyterian Observer of New York has written a most offensive article on the Papal Delegate. It has been reproduced in different papers. Judging by this and the circulation of apocry phal statements attributed maliciously to Catholic journals, it is not rash to conclude the enemy feels already the weighty influence of the representative of the Vicar of Christ in our glorious land of lib-well as for ourselves to be reminded of the solid base on which the if fifteen minutes of that is given to Papal Delegate's mission rests. Holy faith teaches that the Pope definition of liberty, its relation to bers have not yet fixed the date when possesses full power and immediate law and the obligation and duty to their action shall take effect, but jurisdiction in the whole and every citizenship, infinitely greater good part of the Church. The Pope receives directly from the person of school children develop plenty of the Son of God the plenitude of au- patriotic enthusiasm under the thority for governing the entire stimulus of sentimental appeal, Kingdom of Christ on earth. It is but they are not so well informed thus that the Pope is the Vicar of as they should be upon fundamental Christ, the holder of the keys of the truths underlying free government, Kingdom of Heaven, the possessor and upon the meaning of self-govof sovereign authority over the ernment and the duty of the loyal Church of Christ. Bishops by di- citizen to the State and to his felvine creation are an essential part lowmen. the Church. They exercise spiritual authority, but derive it not directly from Jesus Christ. Their commission to labor in their dioceses emanates from the Pope. He as Bishop has neither more nor less power by consecration than any bishop of Christendom, each thus receives the fulness of the Sacrament of Orders. But as the Head of the Church the Pope is the sole fountain of divine jurisdiction, and therefore the Bishop of Bishops.

The Pope has therefore momentous duties and responsibilities, the like of which no man has. To aid in the exercise of such authority, there are resident Cardinals and that are very little short of rank Congregations at Rome correspondisloyalty; teachers who have ex-perpetuity for the Baltimore archidisloyalty; teachers who have exing to Senators and departments of State. Throughout the Church are never can be excused—resistance scholarship that has been establish-Archbishops, Metropolitans and to authority, disregard of the laws ed at this university for the Balti-Patriarchs endowed with extra of the land and contempt for the more archdiocese. power of jurisdiction. These, as decrees of the courts. well as Bishops, have at certain regular periods to give a detailed report to the rioly See of that part of the Lord's vineyard in which they are overseers.

matters of church government, as norance concerning our belief and a bond of union with the Vicar of Christ, as well as informing the enmity and bigotry rampant Pope on the general interests of a throughout the States. It is said country, apart from the special needs of a diocese, representatives thing; the exception, is where reof his Holiness are sent as Legates, ligion is concerned. Every point Nuncios and Delegates.

The Holy Father acted in strict accordance with custom and with his indubitable right in appointing a permanent Apostolic Delegate to the Church in the United States. tolli on the liquor trade in reply to phia. Nowhere, perhaps, was one more Bishop Watterson is practically a needed. The rapid spread of Cath- new departure. No more imporolicity in so wide a territory, the de- tant pronouncement has been given velopment of archdioceses with in favor of temperance. suffragan bishops corresponding in some way to the separate States of Subscribe for the California Caththe Union, the need of putting olic. $1.50 per year.

The California Catholic justice in matters spiritual within easy reach by a Supreme Appellate Leo XIII which we publish today, Court of the Church, to keep zeal ought to convince all right-minded and enthusiasm in the line of Cath- men that the true friend of the olic tradition and breathe into them commonwealth, its trusty couna Catholic spirit, to keep Rome well sellor, is the Catholic Church. informed of the surroundings in The plain categorical teaching of which the ecclesiastical hierarch- the Encyclical on Capital and ies are laboring; all absolutely re- Labor puts in clear light the duties quired a representative of the Holy and rights of the one and the other.

> conferred on the Vineyard of the them as are parents, we say thoro-Lord in the States. It has been ughly instruct your children in its received by the earnest children of principles. Many of the passages ing on the immaculate righteousness of the Church with every feeling of should be learnt by hearf. respect, reverence and obedience. The blessed fruit of the embassy is our Holy Father, as it were a last already manifest. The nation at testament, earnestly entreats the large is visibly taught the suprem- varied bodies professing Chrisacy of the Pope; those of the House- tianity to return to the Mother and sistin his wiles an temptations, why, I hold of the Faith are increasing Mistress of all Churches. To their devotion to the Holy See; and Catholics it will recall the missionto our ecclesiastical organization is ary work each is able in his own given the keystone of strength and immediate circle, to do for the > mission Leo XIII, who has throughout his glorious Pontificate shown glad to learn that a crusade of such superhuman wisdom in select- prayer for the conversion of uning efficient co-operators, chose Archbishop Satolli President of the the United States. Already some Academy of Noble Ecclesiastics. Gifted with piety and learning, trained under the fostering care of proved and indulgenced by the fer takin time by the forelock, so he got the Holy Father, imbued with the Holy Father. By applying to the his holes bored, an his spouts druv in, spirit of Rome, and filled with the Ave Maria, Notre Dame, Ind., ardour of saving souls, his Excel- copies of the prayer may be had right sort of weather when it came lency has in evil report and good gratis. report acted with a prudence and justice that adds to the profound gratitude of American Catholics.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PATRIOTISM.

The following from the Record Union of Sacramento are somewhat ing officers: Brother Xenophon, startling and instructive:

devote an hour of one Friday of tary, and Dennis Horgan, Treasurer. Most of the public schools now It is well both for outsiders as each month to patriotic exercises. That is good; it is excellent. But addressing the children upon the will be effected. We find that our

> Shall we not see to it that the children in our schools are more thoroughly and impressively instructed in the duties, obligations, privileges and guarantees of citizenship? To that end we must see to it also that those in charge of our schools are not only equal to the task of such teaching, but are themselves patriots.

We very much fear, in the light a few teachers in our schools whose conception of patriotic duty is exceedingly narrow, and that they are imbued with doctrines and beliefs should well understand the doc- Foley. This is the second case of the trines of the Church, and to be able kind in the history of the Church in For the purpose of expediting to give a reason for their faith. Ig- the United States. practices, accounts for much of the a little learning is a dangerous of the Church's teaching securely known, is a stone well placed in the temple of religious knowledge.

The decision of Monsignor Sa-

Extracts from the letter of Pope We would urge workingmen to No greater favor could have been read and re-read it; and such of

At the close of his active life, cause of unity. In a later issue, For this onerous and delicate we shall return to this subject. Meanwhile, our readers will be believers has been established in 200,000 persons repeat daily a thawed out any daytimes, an the sap prayer for this purpose. It is ap-

SACRED HEART COLLEGE.

De La Salle Literary Society Elects New Officers.

The De La Salle Literary Society of the Sacred Heart College has organized by the election of the follow-President; James Carberry, Vice-President; Aloysius Mallon, Secre-

On Tuesday the members of the society debated on the question of the Governmental ownership of rail- Melinda triumphantly, "an it just roads, and decided that the Government should own them. The memthere is little doubt that Congress will as soon as acquainted with their action reject the Funding Bill, and proceed to relieve Mr. Huntington and his brother railroad magnates from the duties of their positions.

Every class in Sacred Heart College is full to overflowing. Brother Alexander has secured another brother from St. Mary's College, and is fitting up a second room for the use of a commercial class about to be formthis year is the largest in its history.

The pleasing news has reached the country announces that before long courses of Catholic philosophy university, like the others of Holland, is a Protestant one The chair of Catholic Thomistic Philosophy of facts that have recently come to and Theology has been offered to the our knowledge, that there are not Rev. Van Schyndel, of the Society of California, now of Baltimore, has than sound in fact and theory. Everymade a bequest to the Catholic Uni versity for a burse or scholarship in cused to their pupils things which diocese. This makes the fourth

In the Cathedral of Detroit, on July 1, Reverends Peter and Michael

The Pope's wreath for M. Carnot's suddenly pulling out a $2 bill. offin was of lilies, emblems of purity; lilies of the valley, emblems of hidden virtues; gardenias, emblems of saintliness in worldly society; and passion flowers bordering all.

The latest aspirant for honors in the field of Catholic journalism is the CALIFORNIA CATHOLIC, published n San Francisco. Henry I. Fisher is editor and publisher. Our best wishes.—Catholic Times,

The California Catholic, a bright six-page weekly, has made its appearance. Henry I. Fisher is editor and publisher. As the price is only triumph on the legal battlefield. He has $1 50 per year, it should receive a large number of subscribers. We wish him success.—Pacific Calendar.

WAS A TRULY PIOUS MAN.

Parson Goodfriend's Wrestle With and Tr umph Over Satan and Sunday Sap. She was from the country, but she didn't intend to take back water on anything on that account if she could help it. Piety was the subject of discussion, and Sister Jane, who lived in a town that made some pretensions to beng considered a city, had been expatiat-Parson Jenkins. Sister Melinda bided her time until her innings came round, and then she took the floor.

"I don't mind allowin," she said, "that Parson Jenkins is a powerful religious man, but when it comes to downright wrestlin with satan an restan right up in meetin an say that no means ancient, and in some parts our Parson Goodfriend can't be beat by decorated with frescoes and stucco no man. He don't run a soup kitchen, 'cus we don't have no use for such things down our way, an he don't go slummin, 'cus we ain't got no slums, but he's always ready for a tussle with the adversary, no matter how many snares an pitfalls he sets for his feet. You know, he keeps a maple grove onto his little place, an he sets a powerful store by 'em. Well, it hadn't been very good sugarin weather at the time I'm speakin of it. It had been freezin considerable nighttimes, but it hadn't hadn't a good chance to run. But Parson Goodfriend wuz allers a great han thing ready to take advantage of the day, an them trees of his never dripped a drop on Thursday, nor on Friday, nor on Saturday, but on Sunday the sun shone out powerful warm, an everything was thawin. An when he went to look at his trees on Monday mornin -'cus, of course, he wouldn't let himself think of them even on Sunday-he found that his sap troughs and buckets wuz just brimful. Then what do you think he done?" "Why, I suppose he did what anv other man would have done," replied Sister Jane. "He took the sap away to make maple sugar out of it.

"Yes, that's what Parson Jenkins would 'a' done, no doubt," said Sister proves what I'm tellin these facts for there ain't no more pious man livin than our Parson Goodfriend. No, he didn't shout for joy an take that sap away, but he j..st flopped down on his knees right then an there, an he saysit was my own cous'n what heard him -'Get thee behind me, satan; you can't tempt me with any Lord's day sap.' An then he riz up an emptied every drop of the stuff onto the ground, an next Sunday he preached the most convincin sermon I ever heard on the wiles of the evil one."-New York Advertiser.

Cremation has become an accepted institution in Boston. The records of the Massachusetts Cremation society, whose crematory is near the Forest Hills cemed. The attendance at the college etery, show that up to June 1—that is, five months since the opening of the crematory—there have been 40 incinerations, the number constantly increa each month. In May there were 16 in Rome that the study of philosophy all. Socially considered, all classes of of St. Thomas is going to be restored people have been represented in this in Holland. The Catholic press of new mode of disposing of the dead here, and all ages, from 94 to 5 years, figure in the official entries of cremations. The system is a perfect success, and the avand theology will be instituted at erage time required for the complete rethe University of Amsterdam. This duction of the body to ashes is about 11/2 hours. - Boston Transcript.

The Anarchists and the Lords. The entire opposition press condemns Lord Salisbury for his bill and speech in favor of reviving the power of expulsion of aliens for use against the anarchists. The sober people of both parties, however, regard Lord Rosebery Miss Winifred Martin, formerly of reply as bombastic and theatrical rather body believes, in spite of the prime min ister's sweeping denial, that many an archist outrages are plotted in London come truth, and his bill was not attacked on that ground. No progress yet has been made, however, toward any practical scheme for the international crushing of the anarchist.—London Letter.

All Wiman Had Left.

Mr. Wiman was in a jovial mood when his bail bond for $30,000 was signed by Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss. ney's office Mr. Rouss asked Mr. Wiman if he had any money.

"I don't know," replied Mr. Wiman, digging down into his vest pocket. 'Yes, I've still got this,'' he exclaimed,

"Is that all?" asked Mr. Rous "I guess that's all that's left," re plied Mr. Wiman, with a faint smile, 'although I may have a few dollars more in my valise. The men then left the building.

New York Dispatch.

The New Lord Chief Justice. The new lord chief justice, who has just taken his seat, makes a striking figure on the bench, says a London correspondent. Clad in a new white wig and a bright gray gown, he is the personification of dignity. He has taken with him to the bench the famous snuffbox to which he frequently resorted when torturing some poor victim on cross examination and the immense bandanna which he often waved as a flag of been much more attentive and quiet during the cases thus far heard than many of his judicial associates.

A PALACE OF GHOSTS.

Haunted by Spirits of Women Who Poied One Another.

In the midst of the old ruins and palaces of Italy, stained with countess deeds of blood, it remains for one modern structure to be known particularly as the home of ghosts. This interesting building is described by Marion Crawford in an article in The Century devoted to the wonderful talian coast between Sorrento and Salerno

Above Agerola, which itself is almost directly above Prajano, on the southern side of the peninsula, stands an enormous palace, visible from the sea at a great distance. It is known as the Plazzo degli Spiriti (the palace of the ghosts), and I once took the trouble to climb up from Prajano and go all over it. It is entirely deserted and has neither doors nor windows, a building almost royal in proportions and plan, standing on a vast terrace overlooking the sea, by work, which are fast falling a prev to the weather.

It was built by a personage known as General Avitabile, who came to a tragic end before he had completed his magnificent residence and whose heirs are, I believe, still quarreling about the division of the property, while the building itself is allowed to fall into ruins. It would be hopeless to attempt to disentangle the tales told about the family by the simple hillfolk. There were women in the case who poisoned one another and the general and whose spirits, venomous still, are believed to haunt the vast halls and corridors and staircases and underground regions of the

Whether they do or not, a more appropriate place for hobgoblins, banshees, ghouls and vampires could scarcely have been created by a diseased imagination in a nightmare. Even at midday, under the southern sun, the whole place seems as uncanny as a graveyard on St. John's eve. Bits of staircase lead abruptly into blank walls, passages end suddenly in the high air, without window railing or parapet. Lonely balconies lead around dizzy corners to dismal watch turrets whence a human voice could hardly find its way to the halls with-The most undaunted explorers of the Society For Psychical Research might learn what "goose flesh" means in such a place as this.

Murderer May Inherit From His Victim After six years' litigation the supreme court has decided the case of Ransom versus Shellenbarger, involving the point of whether or not a murderer can inherit property from his victim.

Seven years ago Lee Shellenbarger nurdered his daughter in order that he might inherit some valuable property left her by her mother. He was convicted and sentenced to be hanged, but while the case was pending in the supreme court he was lynched. Before this tragic episode he had deeded his interest in the dead girl's estate to his attorneys, Frank Ransom and John C. Watson. The other heirs contested the attorneys' rights, asserting that the aw would not allow a murderer to profit by his crime. The attorneys contended that in this country crime worked no corruption of blood and no forfeiture of property and that Nebraska's statutes contained nothing to prevent Shellenbarger's transfer. The trial court found for the attorneys, but the supreme court reversed this holding. Since then the personnel of this tribunal has entirely changed, and when the case came up the second time the court upheld the attorneys' contention.—Lincoln Neb.) Dispatch to St. Louis Repub-

How Vandalia Got Its Name.

Some of the names of towns are arrived at in a peculiar way-for example, the town of Vandalia in Illinois, which was named in a singular manner. The man who owned the land on which the present town of Vandalia is situated was a man without a great deal of education and wanted a lawyer friend of his, who was a wag, to give him a name for his new town. The wag suggested that the Vandals were a very noted people, and that he should name the town "Vandalia," or the home of the Vandals." It was at Illinois and subsequently the capital of that state and was named "Vandalia," the home of the Vandals, according to the wit's suggestion.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Judge of Music.

A concert was given at a German court in honor of some foreign prince. At its close the illustrious guest asked for a repetition of the first item on the programme. The first piece was accordingly played over again, but the visitor failed to recognize it as the one he had liked best. Suddenly the musicians fell to tuning their instruments, during which process all the company stopped their ears with the exception of the foreign monarch, who exclaimed in a rapture of delight, "That is my favorite piece."-Fliegende Blatter.

The Three Leaders. The three great leaders in the emancipation of woman are the sewing machine, the typewriting machine and the bicycle.—Rochester

The Matador's Last Thrust, The art of the matador is not to run up to the bull and stab him, but to have him come to you and fling himself upon the sword, while you direct his movements this way and that with the scarlet cape. He will follow a red cape anywhere, and the chulas are busy from the beginning of the fight to the end leading the bull away from the fallen picadors, or the imperiled banderilleros, or the matador. Even after the sword is thrust into his neck up to the hilt it takes the bull a long time to die. A harrowing sight it is. The noble creature—the only noble creature, as it seems, in the ring-stands up as long as he can, vomiting forth torrents of blood, as all his enemies crowd around him, sticking to it until he drops trembling against the fender. Then in come the teams of mules, gayly decorated with flags and ribbons, to carry the bull and horses around the ring at a gallop, leaving a bloody track behind. They are not content with removing the bodies by the nearest possible exit. Oh, no! These gay teams go galloping around the whole arena, each dragging its bloody carcass, while the band plays another quickstep. They are hardly out of the ring be fore the drum rolls, and the next bull bursts into the arena. So it goes on until six bulls are done for. All the while our neighbors in the next box are eating and drinking. As for us, we see nothing but the suffering and death over and over again. It carries you back to the Roman circus, and you wonder what civilization has done for Spain, whose population is still so thirsty for blood. The Spaniards are so used to it that they see none of the barbarity, only the skill and the science. And the English residents in Spain are more enthusiastic than the Spaniards themselves. - Madrid Letter.

The Melungeons.

"I believe that the Melungeons of east Tennessee are the only living lineal descendants of the ancient Aztecs, R. C. Borden of Asheville. "The Melungeons have always been a mystery, and but few facts are known about They came to east Tennesse from North Carolina more than a century ago. They have mixed with no other race and have always been filthy and ignorant. A few of them have and Sciences. grown wealthy, but when they do no effort is made to associate with Americans. They have no traditions as to when or how or whence they came, except as to their ancestors in North Carolina. Their names are of Portuguese origin, and their appearance suggests an admixture of Portuguese and Indian blood. They have been classed with negroes, but it is easily demonstrated that they are not of negro origin. I mingled with them a great deal at one time and was fortunate enough to obtain their confidence through an act of kindness to one of their number. A few relics of great age can be found in the hands of the better class in the shape of pottery and implements. Some of these are of the stone period; others are marked with rude imitations of the Maltese cross. They have a tradition that their dead ancestors in North Carolina are buried in mounds. Putting these points together, I believe that they are descendants of the Aztecs and of Portuguese sailors who landed upon the North Carolina coast."—Cincinnati En-

River Gambling For High Stakes. "There used to be heavy gambling on sippi in the halcyon steamboat days," ers. the other day. "I remember a great game once played on the steamboat Bluff City, which afterward burned at his three companies—"1492, the wharf in St. Louis. It was in the antebellum days, when Kansas City was comparatively unknown.

"At one table the fight for a big pot had narrowed down to two menan inveterate gambler, the other a stranger, whose destination was the little town of Robidoux. Presently the gambler said, 'I'll raise you $20,000 and give you just 15 minutes to call me.' The gentleman who was going to Robidoux replied: 'I don't need 15 minutes. Mr. Clark, bring out enough boxes of money from your office to see the gentleman and go him $20,000 better, and I will give him 30 minutes to call me. If that ain't enough, I'll buy the blamed steamboat and put that on the table.' The gambler threw down his hand, and the stranger made him a present of a $100 bill. The stranger was Joseph Robidoux, founder of the city of St. Joseph, and the little town of Robidoux is a part of St. Joseph today.''—

SANTA CLARA, CALIFORNIA.—THIS INStitution was founded in 1851, a d in 1855 was incorporated with the privileges of a University. It occupies six large buildings, with extensive shady play-grounds, covered gymnasium, swimming pond etc. It possesses a most complete Philosophical Apparatus, and valuable collections of Mineral College, and Geology. It has, also, practical schools of Assaying, Surveying, Telegraphy, and Commercial Rusiness. Diplomas are given in the classical department, and certificates in the commercial course. Terms (pay-able semi-annually in advance)—Matriculation Fee, to be paid but once, $15.00. Beard, Lodging, Tuit-on in all branches, Washing and Mending Linen, School Stationery, medical attendance and Medicine, Baths, etc., per session of ten months, $350. For further particulars apply to the President of Santa Clarge. Oto St. Ignatius College, 214 Hayes street, San Francisco. Illustrated catalogue of the college sent free on application to REV. JOSEPH RIORDAN, S.J. President. an inveterate gambler, the other a doux is a part of St. Joseph today."-Kansas City Journal.

A Valuable Manuscript.

The pope has presented to the Vatican library what may be regarded as a rea treasure. It consists of a manuscript that time the coming metropolis of given by the celebrated Fra Giocondo of history as the "Magnificent." in his life of Fra Giocondo, writes of this work and notes that Politan makes mention of this book in his "Muggeliane" and describes the author as "the most learned man of the old days." This work had been lost for a long time, and its recovery now is looked upon as fortunate. The name of Fra Giocondo crops up from time to time in the more recondite studies of the Italian renaissance—that period when learning, science and art made such immense strides in the highest degree of excellence. He was known as a man of great learning and is sometimes compared with that most remarkable scholar and marvelous artist. Leo Battista Alberti.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Sounds Well.

If you wish to drink out of something very pretty indeed, use the smoked chrysophase glassware. It is sweetly cool and pale in its green tint and blends so well with the nature that stands without the door and window it might have been blown in on a sea breeze

WHAT ONE BOY THINKS.

A stitch is always dropping in the everlasting. knitting, And the needles that I threaded, no, you ldn't count today.

and I've hunted for the glasses till I thought my head was splitting,
When there upon her forehead as calm as clocks they lay.

ve read to her till I was hoarse the Psalms and the Epistles
When the other boys were burning tar barrels down the street,

And I've staid and learned my verses when I heard their willow whisties,
And I've staid and said my chapter with fire in both my feet and I've had to walk beside her when she went to evening meeting, When I wanted to be racing, to be kicking, to be off,

And I've waited while she gave the folks a word or two of greeting.

First on one foot and the other, and 'most strangled with a cough.

You can talk of Young America," I say, "till you are scarlet; It's Old America that has the inside of the Then she raps me with her thimble and calls ne a young varlet, then she looks so woebegone I have to And

But there always is a peppermint or a penny in her pocket—
There never was a pocket that was half so big and deepAnd she lets the candle in my room burn 'way down to the socket,

While she stews and putters round about till I am sound asleep.

There's always somebody at home when every one is scattering.
She spreads the jam upon your bread in a way to make you grow. She always takes a fellow's side when every is battering. And when I tear my jacket I know just where

And when I've been in swimming after father said I shouldn't, And mother had her slipper off according to the rule, It sounds as sweet as silver, the voice that says

"I wouldn't.

The boy that won't go swimming such a day would be a fool!" netimes there's something in her voice, as if she gave a blessing,
And I look at her a moment, and I keep still as a mouse— And who she is by this time there is no need of guessing, For there's nothing like a grandmother to have about the house.

-Harriet Prescott Spofford. The Duke of Coburg has decorated

Mme. Albani with the order of Arts Maggie Moore-Mrs. J. C. Williamson—is once more playing in "Struck

Oil" at Melbourne. George Darrell has gone back to Australia with the rights to play six American plays at the antipodes.

"A Political Woman" is the title of a new three act comedy by C. E. Mallett to be produced in London shortly.

Letters from Australia state that the theatrical season there has been fully as dull as it has been in America. Joseph Jefferson says that America will never have a theater subsidized by the government, as changes would have to be made with each administration. The young daughters of Willie Edouin and his wife (Alice Atherton) have gone on the stage in England under the names of May Bryer and Daisy Field.

Lord Francis Hope, whom it has been reported May Yohe has married, and who has just been declared a bankrupt, is a quiet little man of 35 or thereabouts.

The English Incorporated Society of Musicians asks parliament to empower it to grant powers to an authorized council to compile, maintain and issue the Missouri river as well as the Missis- an official list of qualified music teach-

During the past season given employment to 228 actors, singers and dancers, and the salary sheets of and "Venus"—amounted to $6,850 per

EDUCATIONAL.

SANTA CLARA COLLEGE.

Notre Dame College

SAN JOSE, CAL.

Verona to Lorenzo de Medici, known in Founded, 1851—Incorporated, 1855 Studies Resumed Aug. 7, 1894. Apply for Prospectus to SISTER SUPERIOR.

J. T. FLEMING.

TTORNEY-AT-LAW

530 California street

San Francisco Savings Union Building Residence, 1433 High st., Alameda.

MCGINN BROS. FUNERAL DIRECTORS

31 Eddy street San Francisco Telephone 3252

Feast Elabo

Bishop

budge found

a spec ciscan a sole honor Fathe

phons

Rev. by Re Desm Veni (Mor The lows M. L Grim Jame Mr.

tiss;

ciety

paper

the li

The

first will be re Mr. work will 1 McG presi

lectu

(Elli

Need Lea fede soci help

edu Cat The and ow ·soc

ter

ext

SUMMARY OF A WEEK.

Feasts of St. Ignatius and St. Dominic.

Elaborate Ceremonies to Be Used at Each.

Bishop Montgomery to Administer Confirmation in This City-Lecture at Old Holy Cross Church-Etc.

The usual interesting and complete budget of news of this city and many prospect of a large attendance. other places on the Coast will be found below.

St. Dominic's.

Today being the feast of St. Dominic, a special solemn high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock, by the Franciscan Fathers

Tomorrow at 10:30 there will be a solemn high mass celebrated in honor of the feast by the Dominican Fathers at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Alphonse Riley, O.P., will be celebrant: Rev. Thomas Dyson, O.P., deacon; Rev. Ceslaus Clancy, O.P., sub-deacon. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Pius Murphy, O.P. The choir, under the direction of Miss Desmond, organist, will sing the Asperges (Wilcox); Weber's Mass in G; Veni Creator (Millard); Offertory, line, Planchette, Van de Pavert; or- members and probationists were Boniface Church this week. Ave Maria (Owen); Jubilante Deo ganist, Rita R. Kelley. At the offer- present and received at the 8 o'clock (Morello).

The choir will be composed as follows: Sopranos, Miss H. Kelly, Miss M. Lawler, Miss Cahill; altos, Miss Grimm, Miss Price; tenors, G. Jones, James Lane; bassos, W. Roberts and Mr. Sheerin; first violin, Mr. Crosley; viola, W. Jones; cello, Mr. Prentiss; organist, Miss D. Desmond.

The Young Men's Holy Name Society of this parish will soon have a paper of their own. Thos. J. O'Neil, the librarian of the society, is about to put on the editorial harness, and will issue, about the 1st prox., the first number of the new paper. It will be eight pages in size, and will be replete with interesting matter. Mr. O'Neil is an able and energetic worker, and the people of the parish will no doubt rally to the support of the new venture.

Holy Cross.

Upon the initation of Rev. John McGinty, Mrs. Alice T. Toomy president of the Catholic Women's National League of America, will as individuals, doing any kind of full force. helpful work along philanthropic, educational or benevolent lines.

In every city throughout the country are found local organizations of Catholic women doing excellent charitable and humanitarian work. Their work and methods are often lent Society held an icecream social and in many cases not beyond their ing, to which were invited members not known beyond their own city, own parish. In the belief that a of that organization and their national federation of these local friends. By eight o'clock the hall societies will promote the best inter- was entirely filled, for this society ests of humanity, make known and has gained much popularity in extend the work and advance the in- Stockton since its organization here terests of the Church and of Catholic some four years ago. After some women all over the country, the short recitations the committee in Catholic Women's National League charge served icecream and cake to has been organized.

Right Rev. Bishop Montgomery will administer the sacrament of evening's entertainment. It is the Confirmation to a large class now intention of this society to give being prepared, on the first Sunday monthly socials, thereby bringin October. His Lordship will also ing its members together for deliver a lecture during that week the purpose of listening to temperfor the benefit of the new church ance lectures, etc. Rev. W. B. O'Conbuilding fund. The date and place have not yet been selected.

Star of the Sea.

A fair in aid of the building fund of the Star of the Sea Church will be weather, there will be no high mass held in Saratoga Hall early in Octo- in St. Mary's church for two or three ber. The ladies of the parish are months, but low mass will be celeearnestly at work, and are meeting brated instead. The hours for mass with a generous response. Father on Sunday mornings are seven, half-Coyle's parish is one of magnificent past eight and half-past ten o'clock distances, yet in a rapidly growing The mass celebrated at half-past community, and bids fair soon to be- eight is intended especially for the come a very populous one. The pro- children of the parish, and it is a ceeds of the fair will be devoted to pleasure to see the little boys and paying off the indebtedness on the girls attending our Catholic schools church and new parochial residence. as they march in procession into the ings held here of late was given by

The annual grand celebration of the feast of St. Ignatius will be celebrated tomorrow, Sunday, with a the first Monday of September. solemn high mass, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. The music will be rendered by a male choir of eighty voices, and a symphony orchestra of be sung, with the offertory "Jesu ing for the purpose of electing offi-Duleis Memoria" by Riga. Rev. Henry Woods, S. J., will preach the sermon. The music will be repeated at the solemn high vespers on Sunday evening.

Rev. Father Woods, S J., will be Professor of Physics and Chemistry in place of Rev. Mr. Bell, S. J., and Messrs. Joy, Bollano and Galvin will have charge of classes. The College will reopen on Monday with every

St. James.

S. Casey as deacon, Rev. P. Cum-Gilfeather, T. O'Brian, V. Kingwell, Mercadantes "Salve Maria."

Santa Rosa.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society gave an entertainment on Tuesday night at Germania Hall for the benefit of the poor. Rev. Father Cassin gave an address in which he spoke of the claims of the poor upon the wellto-do, irrespective of creed or color. He commended the object of the entertainment and the practical work of the society. Recitations were given by the Misses Sullivan and Miss candidates. Laura Noonan. Mr. Dempsey gave a piano solo acceptably. Miss Lulu Parrish of Oakland gave a fancy dance. A trio on the piano and on two violins was given by Miss Isabella Coughlan and her two brothers. Miss Hattie Hobbs gave a piano solo. Dancing and refreshments concluded the entertainment.

Sunday, August 12, has been fixed (Ellis street), upon "Home and Its the new church. Rev. J. J. Sullivan, Needs." Mrs. Toomy will be fol- the pastor, is working energetically lowed by her daughter Miss Alice, to have the building constructed in who will speak upon temperance. time to be dedicated by Christmas, Mrs. Toomy's lecture is the first of and from the progress already evia series and is designed to interest dent, hislabors will be crowned with Catholic women in the work of the success. Very Rev. J. J. Prendergast, League, which was organized last V.G., will officiate at the ceremony of laying the corner stone. The This League has for its object the Catholics of Alameda are arranging federation into a united body of all to make the occasion an impressive societies of Catholic women, as well demonstration, and will turn out in

Notre Dame Academy will open on Monday.

Stockton.

The members of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence and Benevoin the Y. M. I. Hall on Friday evenall present, after which all returned to their homes, well pleased with the nor our pastor, takes much interest in this society's welfare, and with with the present officers it is safe to predict for it a prosperous future.

Owing to the extreme warm church. At the children's mass the main aisles are reserved for them. The school will not reopen before

San Jose.

The Gentlemen's Sodality of St. Joseph's Church held a special meet fifty pieces. Fanconier's Mass will ing in the college hall Saturday even-

The following very efficient corps was elected on the occasion: Hon. C. Nally, First Assistant; James W.

Gregg, Second Assistant; Recording Secretary, Louis Lighstone; Correbay, $200,000 Bay, $300,000 Bay, $300,00 T. Ryland, Prefect; Thomas Mc-Reis; Substitutes, Thomas Sullivan In honor of the feast of the patron cession Marshal, M. Farrell; Assistsaint of this church, solemn high ant, V. Scanlan; Communion Mar- Francisco as having the sweetest mass was celebrated on Sunday last shals, John Ward, William Schuh, by Rev. P. J. O'Connor, with Rev. P. John Devine, M. F. Marshall, F. Miotke: Consultors, J. H. Campbell, mings as sub-deacon and Rev. P. R. J. B. Pinard, J. B. Quinlan, H. Ho-Lynch, master of ceremonies. The gan, F. Barnes, Jesse Smith, T. Serio, sermon was preached by Rev. P. C. F. J. Cullen, James Riordan, Michael Yorke. Weber's Mass in G was sung Gregg, H. Franklin and J. W. Chute; Robert Stantini, George Rice, Dan sistant Vestry Prefect, R. Powers.

Last Sunday was the regular Com-F. Lane; bassos-M. Leonard, Ma- munion Sunday, and all the officers, of Portiuncula was celebrated at. St. tory, Signor Roberto Stantini sang Mass. The Sodality is in a very flourishing condition, and numbers many of San Jose's most prominent citizens in its ranks.

Oakland.

Classes are being formed at St. Francis de Sales Church for instruction prior to the administration of the sacrament of Confirmation on the last Sunday in September. As it is about three years since a class was confirmed in this church, it is esti-

Santa Clara.

President, Rev. R. E. Kenna; Secre- the first week in October. tary, Rev. Joseph Caredda; Treasurer, Rev. J. F. Collins; Minister, Rev. M. A. McKey; Political Economy, Rev. A. Brunego; Ethics, Rev. lecture tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock in the chapel at the cemetery of the laying of the corner stone of ham; Poetry, Rev. Joseph Lydon; Montgomery avenue, but it was not First Grammar, Rev. Joseph Lydon; Montgomery avenue, but it was not provided the corner stone of the laying of the corner stone of the fessor J. Donovan; French, Rev. Je- congregation. rome Ricard; Spanish, Rev. R. Arzu; and palæntology, Rev. A. Cichi; ing programme is promised. Chaplain, Rev. M. W. Shallo; pastor College, San Francisco.

held its first rehearsal Monday even-

Dr. George W. Fowler was united in wedlock to Miss Lena Manshot at the Catholic Church on Monday. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a few days' stay in San Francisco. On their return they will make Santa Claratheir home. The church was crowded with the friends of the happy conple. Dr. George W. Seifert of San Jose acted as best man and bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kenna, assisted by Rev. Father Raggio.

arrived on Monday and will remain nun. at the college.

Rev. P. McGlade of Dublin, Ireland, was a guest at the College last

Professor Schubert, teacher of music at the College, has proved himself to be a very successful fisherman at Santa Cruz, and favored the faculty with several large salmon.

San Luis Obispo.

One of the most pleasant gather-the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society at Mannerchor Hall on the evening of July 26th. It took the form of an July 26th. It took the form of an apron and necktie party, and great range down to 75c.

BARLEY — Feed, 80@85 & ctl; brewing, amusement was created by the search for partners after the aprons and neckties were distributed. The affair was greatly enjoyed by all who participated. Mrs. M. A. Egan, formerly Grand Vice-President, left for the East on Wednesday. Mrs. Egan will be absent for several months.

sponding Secretary, Richard McCar- city, has the finest choir in the counthy; Treasurer, P. Regli; Assistant ty. It is composed of the following Treasurer, Frank Stebbins; Censors, named ladies and gentlemen: Misses Joseph Longo, J. M. Welch and S. Annie and Theresa Gargan, Miss Anna Kieffer, Mr. Joseph McCarthy and Frank Reinnegger; Guardian of and Dr. Chas. McCarthy. The mem-Probationists, William Stover; Pro- bers of the choir are pronounced by some of the leading organists of San voices ever heard in a country church.

Here and There.

His Grace Archbishop Riordan and) Rev. Father McSweeney of Oakland are at Colorado Springs.

The following changes are anby the following choir: Sopranos - Standard Bearer, T. J. Griffith; As- nounced among the clergy: Rev. M. Mesdames Macdonald and Plan. sistant Standard Bearer, S. Saun- Scanlan to be assistant at St. Rose's, chette, Misses Ella Donlon, J. Grant, ders; Division Guardians, C. M. Mc-city; Rev. J. Dillon to be assistant at T. de Bernardini; contraltos—Misses Gettigan, D. Quilty, H. Patton, J. Napa; Rev. J. Pimental to be assist-Rose Phillips, Nellie Hampton, Rose Jasperson, J. Elitch and J. J. Nor- ant at Centerville; Rev. F. Alvarez La Faielle, E. O'Connor; tenors- mandin; Vestry Prefect, P. Leik, As- to be assistant at St. Patriek's, San

The annual celebration of the feast

The members of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society of Petalnma gave a very enjoyable open meeting on evening of the 26th ult. A literary and musical program, including an address by Grand President Deane, furnished the program of the evening. Right Rev. Bishop Manogue administered the sacrament of Confirmation to a large class at Sutter Creek last Sunday. The ladies of the Catholic Church of St. Helena will give a garden mated that there will be nearly 500 party in Hunt's Grove, Thursday, August 16th.

The ladies of St. Joseph's Church of Rio Vista contemplate holding a The following is a partial list of fair and entertainment in the course The following is a partial list of fair and entertainment in the course do layers, 600@$1 00; Muscatel, loose, bxs, 500 the officers and professors of Santa of six weeks or two months. In case 750; do sks, 234@3c for No. 1 and 234@224 for No. Clara College for the new session: they definitely decide to hold a fair President, Rev. Joseph Riordan; Vice- the date will probably be set about

New Portuguese Church

The new Portuguese church, which mention was made in a pre-Jerome Ricard; Logic, Rev. M. Shal- vious issue, will be established at 525 lo; Rhetoric, Rev. John J. Cunning- Front street, near Jackson. A loca-First Grammar, Rev. Joseph Lydon;
Second Grammar, Rev. James Colliconsidered acceptable, hence the light streets of 2021/60, 18th super do 600. gan; Third Grammar, Rev. Joseph change. The first mass will be cele-De Rop; Preparatory, John A. Wad-brated on Sunday, the 12th inst., at dell; Commercial Rhetoric, Rev. V. 10:30 o'clock, by Rev. Father Fer-Chiappa; Banking and Bookkeeping, nandez of Oakland, who for the Professor Geo. A. Sedgley and Pro-present will have charge of the new

Next Thursday evening a concert German, Rev. Joseph P. Francis; Cal- will be given at the location of the culus, analytical geometry, trigo-church, commencing at 8:30 o'clock. nometry and surveying, Rev. Jerome | The admission fee will be 25 cents, Ricard; geometry, Rev. H. Whittle; and the proceeds will be applied to algebra, Rev. Joseph Lydon; physical furnishing the hall and altar. The science, Rev. A. Brunengo; chemis- talent will be composed of Portutry, mineralogy, assaying, geology guese singers, and a very entertain-

The new church will be dedicated of St. Clares Church, Rev. Vincent to Saint Anthony of Lisbon. The Teste; assistants, Revs. A. Raggio seventh centenary of this saint will and J. Dossola. Rev. Father Calzia be celebrated on August 15, 1895, will be stationed at St. Ignatius and already preparations are being made in honor of the event. In The Sodality Philharmonic Society | Portugal the demonstration will be of the shaft. Several men were over on a grand scale. Father Fernandez come in attempting to rescue the boys. will also have a celebration in this [A cask of gold valued at $50,000, one State, probably in Oakland.

New Sacred Heart Mother-General.

Mme. De Sartorius has been elected at Paris mother-general of the Nuns of the Sacred Heart, the place left vacant by the death of Mme. Lehon. Mme. De Sartorius for years has been one of the assistant mothersgeneral. She is the fourth to occupy Miss Fannie Fowler of Evergreen as this position, and is the last connecting link between the present members | an illicit distillery with a capacity of and Mme. Borat, the foundress, from whom she was the last to receive Rev. Father Francis of St. Louis the ring and cross of the professed 150. Archbishop Katzer has protested and will remain nun.

Subscribe for the California Cath-

VAN NESS PHARMACY

Cor. Market and Van Ness Ave.

Laboratory for Analytical, Bactereological and Pathological Examinations

Strictly First-class at Reasonable Price Proprietor, MAX WIEDEMANN German Chemist and Apothecary Sanitary Officer of the Dutch East-Indian Army SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Grain, Etc. WHEAT-Milling, $1 00@1 071/2 $9 ctl; shipping 971/2021/4. OATS — Off grades of feed, 85c@$1 05 $ OATS — Off grades of feed. 85c@$105 % ctl: good to choice, $1 10@1 17; fancy, $1 20@ 1 25; surprise, $1 30@1 35; milling, $1 1 @1 25; gray, good to choice, $1 05@1 12½.

CORN — Large yellow, $1 15@1 17 % ctl; small do, $1 30@1 32½; white, $1 35@1 40.

BEANS—Pea, $2 50@2 75 % ctl; pink, $1 75@1 180; bayo, $2 25@2 35; small white, $2 50@2 70; large do, $2 45@2 60; butter, large, $2 25@2 50; Lima, $3 60@3 70.

SEEDS—Rape, 13/@23/4c % %; hemp, 33/%83/4c; canary, 31/263/4c for imported California; do California, nominal; faxseed, 3@31/26; alfalfa, llc for Utah; mustard, nominal.

llc for Utah; mustard, nominal

Hops-Nominally 7@10c % b. HOPS—Nominally 1988-50 F = 8 BUCKWHEAT—Nominal. RYE—85@90c $P ctl. DRIED PEAS—Green, $1 25@1 50 $P ctl; Niles.

Mill Products. BRAN-From $16 00@17 00 $2 ton for home product; do Oregon and Washington, $15 00@

MIDDLINGS-From $19 00/2021 00 $9 tor GROUND BARLEY—From $19 50@20 90 $2 ton FEED CORNMEAL—From $27 50@28 00 $2 ton OILCARE MEAL-$35 00 % ton from mill; job bing at $37 50.

COTTON SEED MEAL $30 00@32 50 $\forall \text{ton.}

FLOUR-Family extra, $3 40@3 50 $\forall \text{bbakers'} \text{extra, $3 30@3 40; superfine, $2 55}

Vegetables.
Onions—From 25@35c % ctl for red; yellow

55@60c.
Potatoes—From 30@35c % ctl in sks for Early Rose; 30@50c for Burbank and 60@70c for Chile Garnet: bxs, 40@70c for Early Rose and 50@90c or Burbanks.

various—Green peas, 1796000 w M., solme ban, 50c@$1 00 $\frac{1}{9}$ sk; green peppers, 25@500 $\frac{9}{9}$ bx; cucumbers, 25@30c for small bxs and 50c 75c for large; summer squash, 25c; tomatoes, 50c@$1 00 for small bxs and $2 00@2 50 for arge; green corn, 50c@$1 00 $9 sk for commo and 20@2216c # doz for choice bay; green okra 8@10c $ 10; egg plant, 75c@$1 25 $ bx. Fruits and Nuts.

FRESH FRUITS-Strawberries, $2 50@4 00 % chest for Sharpless; do Watsonville, $3 00@ 4 00; do Longworth, $8 00@10 90; blackberries, $1 50@3 50; raspberries, $2 00@4 00; currants, $1 50@3 50.

Cherries—From 20@35c for black; Royal Anne, 20@30c; white grapes, 40@55c $\pi$ bx.
Apples, 15@25c $\pi$ bkt; do bx, 25@75c; apricots, 25@40c $\pi$ box; do bskt, 20@30c; plums, 20@40c;
pears, 15@50c $\pi$ bx; do bskt, 15@25c; peaches,
25@50c for bskts and bxs; crabapples, 25@40c. Melons—Arizona watermelons, 20@25c apiece Honolulu do, 35@75c; Vacaville canteloupes $2 50@3 00 $8 crate.

LEMONS-California, 50c@$1 00 for 60mmor

LEMONS—California, 50c@$1 00 for 60mmon to fair; $1 50@2 00 & bx for good to choice; fancy Santa Barbara, $2 50@3 00; do Santa Paula, $2 50@3 00; Mexican limes, $3 00@4 00. Various—Bananas, $1 50@2 50 $\formalfor{\text{P}}\text{bunch}; pineapples, $$1 50@4 00 $\formalfor{\text{q}}\text{doz}\text

2: dried grapes, 11/2014/c W D.
NUTS—Jobbing prices: Almonds, softshells, 8211c W D: do papershell, 122013c; do hardshell, 506c; standard, 708c; walnuts, California, softshell, 9\\ 0010: do papershell, 9\(0010:\) do hardshell, 7\(08c;\) do Chile, 8\(09c;\) chestnuts, Italian, 8\(0.9c;\) Brazil, 8\(0.9c;\) Filberts, 10\(0.9c;\) do 11c; polished pecans, Texas, 8@10c; pinenuts, Mexican, 12@ 13c; peanuts, California, 6c; Virginia, 51/2@61/2c; hickory, nominal; cocoanuts, $5 00@5 50 $8 100.

BUTTER—Creamery, 18@20c $ $ b; fancy dairy, 16@17c; good to choice, 14@15c; pickled roll, nominal. CHEESE—California, 7@81/2c % 15 for flats Young America, 9@91/2c; Eastern, 13@15c; West 616c; dark amber do, nomi BEESWAX-24@26c % b.

Poultry and Eggs. POULTRY-Hens, $4 50@5 50 $8 doz; broilers $2 0(@3 00 for small; $3 00@3 50 for large; fryers, $4 00@5 00; roosters, $6 00@7 00 for young; do old, $4 00@4 50; geese, $1 00 $\pi$ pair: young at 31, $2 000, $25; ducks, $3 000, $50 $9 doz for old and $5 500, $50 for young; turkeys, alive, 13\(\text{0.16} \) 13\(\text{0.16} \) 15\(\text{0.16} \) 15\ young and $1 5001 75 for old. EGGS—California, 11@14c $\frac{2}{3}$ doz for store; ranch, 17@19 c, some selected being held higher; Eastern, cold storage, 15@16c. John McGough, convicted of shooting William Ross at an election poll in Troy

N. Y., has been sentenced to prison for nineteen years and six months. Mutiny exists among the convicts at Tracy, Tenn. They loaded a pipe with explosives and set it off. Deputy Warden Nelson was instantly killed and two guards were wounded. Two boys were killed by fire damp in an abandoned mine at Streetor, Ills. They went into the hole to get their ball which had been thrown into the mouth of forty casks shipped from New York, and Paris. Senator Allen of Nebraska has introduced a gigantic charity relief bill in the senate. It appropriates $50,000,000 to be distributed pro rata among the states for the relief of the worthy poor.

was stolen from a train between Havre

M. B. Williams, one of the deputy assessors of Santa Clara county, has de faulted for the amount of $1,800. Williams has posed as purifier in elections.

The New York Compressed Yeast Company has been seized. It was running 1,500 gallons a day.

The Catholic Episcopal residence as Milwaukee has been assessed for $408,

A large skiff containing fifteen men was capsized in the river at the foot of Grand avenue, St. Louis. Fourteen of the men were rescued, but William Davidson was drowned. The Boston Safety Deposit and Trust company has filed an application in the federal court for the removal of H. P. Chesley as receiver of the Union Stockrards company at Sioux city.

In the United States Court at St. Paul, Minn., Dr. James Phillips of Preston, charged with making false pension returns, has been acquitted. This is the fourth acquittal in the so-called Van Luven pension-fraud cases.

James B. Duggan

SUCCESSOR TO BULLOCK & JONES

Furnishing Goods

DEPARTMENT

Fine Furnishing Goods SPECIALTY Shirts, Underwear and Scarfs

IMPORTER OF

To Order 119 Montgomery Street, S. F.

T. P. RIORDAN Real Estate Agent & Insurance Broker

632 Market Street

RENTS COLLECTED Insurance and Taxes promptly attended to.

Painless Extractions a Specialty

DENTISTRY In all its Branches

DR. T. H. MORRIS

47 POST STREET Rooms 1, 2 and 9

Corner Kearny, San Francisco

CEORGE GOODMAN

SIDEWALK

GARDEN WALK A Specialty Office 307 Montgomery St.

Nevada Block

San Francisco

JOHN F. LYONS

NOTARY PUBLIC ommissioner of Deeds for

All States and Territories -Passports Procured-

Office 607 Montgomery St. Telephone 5439

Notarial Business can be transacted after usiness hours at his residence, 2202 Steiner treet, next N. E. corner Sacramento Street, an Francisco, Cal.

Will D. She

SHEA & SHEA ARCHITECTS

26 Montgomery St., San Francisc

Telephone 911

JOHN T. GREANY

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

No. 14 Grant Avenue

San Francisco, Cal.

DAVID I. MAHONEY

ATTORNEY AND

COUNSELOR-AT-LAW

420 Montgomery St.

DR. JEROME A. HUGHES

PHYSICIAN and SURGEON

Office Hours 2 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m. Sundays, 8 to 10 a. m.

42 Oak Street

ARCHITECT.

JOHN J. CLARK,

Room 70 St. Ann's Building

SAN FRANCISCO. Office Hours 1 to 3 p. m

OAKLAND ADVERTISEMENTS H. H. HUSSEY

Hereby announces Himself a Candidate

Sheriff of Alameda Co. ALAMEDA ADVERTISEMENTS.

ALAMEDA

STEAM LAUNDRY ASSOCIATION

ALAMEDA, CAL.

ROSWELL G. WHEELER. THOMAS A. SMITH

THOS. A. SMITH & CO.

REAL ESTATE INSURANCE

AND LOANS

ALAMEDA OFFICE OF

GAS, LIGHT and HEAT CO

OFFICE:

No. 1601 PARK STREET

FACING BROAD-GAUGE DEPOT

ALAMEDA, CAL.

Artificial Stone N. H. Lang & Co. BUILDERS AND REALTY BROKERS!

36 Montgomery St.

Real Estate Loans

ings Banks Valuation

Telephone 94

(Successor to JOHN ROACH) MANUFACTURER OF

INSTRUMENTS

SAN FRANCISCO

struments Examined, Repaired and Carefully Adjusted.

Materials for Office Work Supplied.

PLEASURE

Table Unexcelled Busses meet all trains

Nurses....... 5.00 per week
Special rates to Societies and Families.

H. J. GALLAGHER (Successors to Flanagan & Gallagher)

No. 20 FIFTH STREET, Opp. Lincoln School, S. F. The Finest Funeral Furniture, Hea arriages, etc., always on hand and furni t the Shortest Notice. Telephone 30:00.

T. R. CAREW. CAREW & ENGLISH

No. 19 VAN NESS AVE.

NEAR MARKET ST., SAN FRANCISCO

Made for 20 per cent over and above Sav-

Established in New York 1834. Established in San Francisco....1855

Surveyors, Nautical & Mathematical

No. 429 MONTGOMERY STREET S. W. Cor. Sacramento Street

HOTEL DEL MAR

On the Seashore Twenty Minutes Bide from Santa Cruz Climate Perfect-Surf Bathing Sailing—Rowing—Fishing

Children, $3.50 to $5.00 per week for further particulars apply to MANAGER HOTEL DEL MAR, Santa Cruz, Cal. Or CATHOLIC LADIES' AID SOCIETY, Room 29 Maze Building

1170 Market Street, San Fra

H. B. McAvov. MCAVOY & GALLAGHER PUNERAL DIRECTORS

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

When the bimeby time comes roun-Oh, I long to hear the sounl So I'm sittin an a-mopin An a-gropin an a-hopin Till the bimeby time comes roun.

THE BIMEBY TIME.

When the bimeby time once gets in view, When the bimeby time gets roun, We'll hev free trade an tariff, too; Hard times won't trouble me or you. An Sunday'll last the whole week through.
When the simeby time comes roun.

When the bimeby time comes roun-Oh, I long to hear the soun!
So I'm sittin an a-mopin
An a-gropin an a-hopin
Till the bimeby time comes roun.

A Planet Without an Atmosphere I believe that it is generally admitted that all of the planets, strictly so called, as well as the sun, possess atmospheres, the moon of our earth being the only one of the celestial hosts without such an ethereal envel ope. Our atmosphere is composed of parts by weight of nitrogen and 21 of oxygen, the other 2 per cent being made up of a mixture of carbonic acid, aqueous vapor and ammonia, the latter in very minute quantities. How our earth came to have an atmosphere, when or at what period in the history of the terrestrial sphere it originated, no man can even venture an opinion. The thought uppermost when the headline was attached to this "note" was not concerning the origin of the atmosphere of the planet earth and its constituent parts, but of the moon's strange lack of such a necessity, providing always that there are living men and women on the lunarian plains and mountains, with lungs constructed similar to ours. It is believed (the belief being based upon mere conjecture of course) that our attendant satellite once had an atmosphere, as well as lakes and riv-

Caterpillars. It is a peculiar idea people have that if they wrap a tree with cotton it will prevent the caterpillars, the most destructive pest we have on trees, from climbing up into the branches and feeding on the leaves. The theory is all very well if the facts were so. That is, if caterpillars climbed up trees in the manner these people say, it would be a good way of eping them from the leaves. But unfortunately caterpillars do not climb trees. They get there without such endeavor. The butterfly deposits eggs upon the leaves, where in course of time the caterpillar is hatched out. He is born on the leaves, and no amount of cotton tied around the trunk of a tree will get him off them. The only way to rid trees of caterpillars is to spray them with paris green or some poison.-Pittsburg Dispatch.

ers and oceans, but that all have long since been absorbed by the thousands all but covered.—St. Louis Republic.

One of the novel features of a recent military tournament in Engse of the typewriter on the battlefield for the purpose of trotter has made the animal more recording messages from signalers. It is stated that the typewriter operator was also an expert cyclist and interest in the horse is to give place handles of his machine. Riding in and out among the horses and gun vention" and note the attention paid carriages, which he did without the the splendid specimens of endurance slightest mishap, whenever he came to a standstill he instantly braced up the cycle by a handy contrivance and pounded away at the typewriter while in the saddle. The message when completed was sent to the commanding officer in the rear by means of a trained dog.-St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Moths and Butterflies. Some moths look very much like butterflies, but there are two ways in which you can always tell the one from the other. Each have little slender feelers growing from the head, but the butterfly's feelers, or tossed it up into a ragout, minced the "antennæ," as they are called, have knobs on the ends. The antennæ of the moth sometimes have tiny feathers on them and sometimes little spires, but they are never knobbed. Then, too, in alighting the butterfly always holds her wings erect, while the moth's droop or are nearly flat. -Child Garden.

The total expenditure of the British government in connection with the colonies, excluding India, is 22,000,000 a year, mainly for military and naval defense.

The most easily digested meats are cold mutton, mutton chops, venison, tenderloins, sirloins, steak, lamb chops, roast beef, rabbit and chicken.

Portland, Me., is the winter port for all Canada, which sends out and receives over $50,000,000 worth of goods every winter.

Many ancient records have been preserved on bricks, tiles, tablets of various substances and on oyster and other shells. One bushel, by weight, of sound shelled corn makes 34 gallons of "proof spirits," or exactly 3.72 gallons.

It is said that those who eat too in the ears.

FUTURE OF THE HORSE.

It Is Foretold That He Will Cease to Be

There was a time when the wiry thoroughbred of English breeding and perhaps the Arabian barb were looked to as the surest means for improving the common stock of horseflesh. Consul General Judd reports from Austria-Hungary that the American trotter is now the favorite preed in use for improving the native blood. If Austria-Hungary cannot do better than to come to America for this purpose, it argues well for the superiority of the trotter.

As a beast of speed the distinct ive trotter is an example of modern evolution. It is not many years since a speed of three minutes for a mile was reckoned good at a trotting gait. Now there is hardly a farmer's son in the country that does not own a colt that "can clip a mile in three minutes and not turn a hair," at least so the young man says. A speed of two minutes is not only possible, but probable in the immediate future, and the time may not be far off when the American horse can trot alongside the best Derby runner.

With the constant inroads of machinery on the field of the horse's usefulness a change is coming in the evolution of the animal. Already electricity supplants the old horse cars, and no one is sorry. One need have no sympathy for the overburdened fluid on a hard grade. An electric van for parcel delivery is working in London and is said to be cheaper than horse power. Promises have already been made by our inventors of electric plows, and feasible plans for freight and produce tramways across the country on roads hitherto traversed only by the aid of the horse or mule are suggested. The old fashioned horsepower for running incidental machinery is giving place to the "coming power."

The coming horse is to be less and less a beast of heavy burden. Many places there are where horses will of square miles of volcanic scorize continue to drag heavy loads of a neand lavas with which its surface is cessity. The handsome draft horse is not yet entirely to be dispensed with. But pleasure driving will continue to give a motive for the improvement of the trotting horse. The bicycle takes the place of a few saddle horses perhaps, but the majority of cyclers care for a horse just as much as before the silent steed came into being. Many of them own a wheel who would not own a horse, but the wheel, even if built for two, is not so agreeable after all as holding the lines behind a glossy coated, lightly stepping horse. Electric motors for carriages are talked of, but they will be expensive for a long time yet, and until their proficiency is somewhat advanced from the present stage a man even with a balky horse would be less helpless in case of

The poble, intelligent horse will not be lost sight of in the advance of civilization. Relief from the heavier duties will leave the more energy for the driving, of which every American citizen of means and leisure is fond. Whatever question there may be as to the morality or advantages of horse racing, the improvement of the serviceable for the legitimate uses of man. If any one believes that the had his Remington mounted on the before the inroads of electricity, let him attend some great "horse conand intelligence there on exhibition. -Boston Journal.

accident.

Drinking From a Lady's Shoe. In London a century ago it was no uncommon practice on the part of the "fast men" to drink bumpers to the health of a lady out of her shoe. The Earl of Cork relates an incident of this kind, and to carry the compliment still further he states that the shoe was ordered to be dressed and served up for supper. "The cook set himself seriously to work upon it. He day. He said:

"The cook set her at church on the ensuing Lord's and Dresden the table is run on what may be called the hotel system. That is to say the principal chef is allowed. pulled the upper part, which was of fine damask, into fine shreds and sole, cut the wooden heel into thin slices, fried them in batter and placed them round the dish for garnish. The company testified their affection for the lady by eating heartily of this exquisite impromptu." Within the last score of years, at a dinner of Irish squires, the health of a beautiful girl, whose feet were as pretty as her face, was drunk in champagne from one of her satin shoes, which an admirer of the lady had contrived to obtain possession of.—Newark News.

Another Kind. It was about 10:30 p. m. and the young woman was talking to the man in the case.

"What I like in a man," she was saying, "is energy—one that has some go in him."

The young man glanced hastily at the clock, then at the door, then at the girl and got up.

"I beg your pardon," she said, blushing. "You may stay as long as you please. You are the first man that ever understood that statement News. properly."—Detroit Free Press.

The Convincing Argument.

Young Lady Shopper-This piece of dress goods suits me, except that I do not think the figure in it is pretty. Subtle Salesman - Ah, but you surely will when it is made up and much meat are apt to have ringing you have the dress on.—Arkansaw Traveler.

THE WOULD BE SUICIDE.

Got Mad When He Found a Man Offering Him Facilities For Dying.

A good story is told on ex-Alderman Arthur Dixon, although he denies it. Still, the denial is such a half hearted one that it is likely there is a good deal of truth in it.

Dixon had the acquaintance of one of those men who have periodical fits of despondency, during which they claim that life is not worth living, but who always stop just short of making a personal investigation of what comes after it. This young man invariably sought out Mr. Dixon when he became despondent, told him all his woes and generally ended by announcing that he was going to commit suicide. In the kindness of his heart and possibly because he thought it would be annoying to have to testify at an inquest, Mr. Dixon would cheer him up and persuade him to hang on a while longer.

In time, however, this programme became monotonous from constant repetition, and Mr. Dixon undertook to put a stop to it. The next time the young man announced that he was going to commit suicide Dixon raised no objections.

"Possibly you are right," he said. I guess it is the best thing you can How do you intend to do it?" 90h, I might as well jump in the iver," returned the despondent man. It was winter, and the river was covered with ice, but Mr. Dixon was ready with a suggestion. "I know a place down on the south branch where there are some big holes in the ice," he said pleasantly.

'I'll get my buggy, and we'll drive down there. The fellow wasn't as enthusiastic now, but he raised no objection, and Mr. Dixon got his buggy. He was cheerful and jolly during the drive, but the would be suicide was inclined to be thoughtful. Down among a lot of coal yards Mr. Dixon jumped

"Here we are." he said as he pulled an ax out from under the buggy "What's that for?" asked the young

"Oh, I was afraid we might not be able to find a hole that was big enough, and I didn't want to take any chances," explained Mr. Dixon. Then he got out a heavy weight with a cord fastened to it and a long piece of rope and started out on the ice. "What's that weight for?" asked the despondent man as he followed

"That's to tie your legs so that here can't be any mistake," returned "And the rope?"

"To tie around your body so that I can pull you out after it's all over. Your friends would never forgive me f I didn't take your body home." The young man stopped short.

'Are you mean enough to stand by and see me drown?" "Why, I'm your friend, and I want to do what I can to help you," said Dixon pleasantly. "And you'll really do it?"

"Look here, Dixon!" he exclaimed.

"Certainly "Then I'll be -- if I'll give you that much satisfaction. I'm going home.

They drove back in silence, the young man was cured. He has never talked of suicide since.-Chicago Post.

Miss Esmerelda Longcoffin has been very much disgusted at the slowness and hesitancy of Gus de Smith in proposing matrimony. He has been paying her marked attention for some time past and is a fluent talker on every subject except that one.

They were eating ice cream at a popular ice creamery on Third avenue, and Gus undertook to ask Miss "Miss Esmerelda."

"Yes, sir," interrupted Esmerelda. "May I"-

"Oh, yes! Certainly you may," she again interrupted him, with animation.

"May I hope to"-"You had better speak to pa about it," said she, trembling.

'Speak to pa?" he asked, tearing open his eyes with astonishment. "Yes, speak to pa."

"About what shall I speak to him?" exclaimed Gus roughly.

There was a painful pause, and

-Philadelphia Times. By a Different Route. Little Dick-Miss Antique is most 40 years old.

energy that were truly phenomenal.

Mother-I told you to stop asking ladies their ages. "I didn't."

"Then how do you know she is nearly 40?" "I asked her how many times she had seen the 17 year locusts."-Good Vox Populi.

Johnnie-Say, mamma, what does vox populi" mean? Mamma-It means the voice of the Johnnie-Then, if you wanted to speak of the voice of only one man, would you say "vox populiar?"-Detroit Free Press.

DINNER THAT COST $700 A PLATE Eaten In a Gambling House and Followed by a Turn at Faro. "History of the cuisine fairly teems with descriptions of costly meals,' remarked Louis Davies of Brooklyn. We read how that profligate Heliogabalus, the Roman emperor, had a single dish on his table once that cost $200,000, and how another Roman, Aelius Verus, gave a supper to a dozen cromes that cost a quarter of million dollars. Then Vitellius, still another Roman and an emperor likewise, entertained his brother at a little snack that used up a couple of hundred thousand, but these were ancient fellows, who had nightin gales' tongues and humming birds' brains and similar marvelous dain-

CALIFORNIA

"Coming down to modern days and plain, ordinary, everyday ham and eggs, I ate a supper once in this very town that cost a friend of mine $1, A gentleman named Parker kept an establishment devoted to entertaining gentlemen at sundry games of chance. One night the friend I speak of and myself were killing an evening here together, when we conceived the brilliant idea that a visit to Parker's would be just the thing. We put it into execution at once. I have never gambled in my life, and my friend has never done it since. We went up stairs and entered the room just as supper was announced.

My friend did not want to eat anything, but I was hungry, and when some plausible rascal of a dealer told me that there was broiled Smithfield ham, flanked with pullets' eggs as a sort of side issue to the otherwise gorgeous feast. I broke for the supper room, despite my companion's pleadings. Of course he followed me when he found his protestations were useless, and we enjoyed the feed immensely. When we came out, my friend pulled out a $20 bill and said he would play a turn or two to pay for our supper. I begged him in turn not to do it, but he was as obdurate as I had been. But why linger on the misery? He lost his $20 bill and tried to get it back. In two hours $1,400 were gone glimmering. I have never felt so downright hungry since that a slight request from a mere ac quaintance cannot keep me away from a deadhead feed."—Washington

Electricity and Spiritualism. There is not the least evidence to show that electricity is employed at spiritualistic seances. On the contrary, there is every evidence against its presence. The most delicate instrument for the detection of that force, which would show its presence when so light as scarcely to affect a thistledown, is unaffected. The table, however violently moved, is net electrically excited, and the medium, writing or entranced, gives no indication of the force. It would be im-constituted as it is, to generate an electric current. Hence all the theories of spiritual phenomena, taking electricity as the cause, are untenable. That spiritual beings have any more direct connecformed of electricity, as though it J. Cummings.—Philadelphia Ledger. was a material substance, while it is without the least substance, being a possible for the human organism, force like heat or light. Electricity can play no more important part in the spirit spheres than on earth, and in reality it belongs as an expression of force to this material sphere, and in the spirit world is represented by far swifter and more powerful form of energy, as the celestial substance of that world is more sublimated and refined.—Professor Hudson Tuttle.

How Kings Feed. In the courts of Berlin, Stuttgart, Rome, Lisbon, Stockholm, Munich is to say, the principal chef is allowed so much per head per diem for all the members of the family and for those of the household who are of gentle birth, and another fixed sum per diem and per head is allowed for each ping of its moisture works like a person of menial station. The price for food of the sovereigns, their families and guests averages about $8° a day, while the sum allowed for servants is about $1.25. When it is borne in mind that the number of persons fed at these rates often reaches as many as 500 in a single day, the possible profit of a chef's commission Miss Esmerelda went to work on her can be imagined. In this price wine ice cream with a vindictiveness and is not included, and as the profits in this are even greater than from the food many of the masters of the royal kitchens of Europe are richer than the average guests of their sovereigns.—New York Advertiser.

The Best Plan. "No, it's no use kicking or lamenting. If anything disagreeable happens, just keep still about it. Just say nothing. That's the best plan." 'Yes, but suppose it's a woman who's in hard luck?"

"Oh, in that case, say as little about it as possible. Don't talk about it more'n two weeks anyhow."-New York Recorder.

The Resources of Modern Science Waiter at the Hotel-Is there any thing else I can get you, sir? Guest-Yes, go and fetch me a

MANY HISTORIC TREES.

Those That Grace the Avenues of the National Capital. Among the 75,000 trees which the Capital City of the nation is so proud of and which go so far toward making it the beautiful place it is, are a number of historic trees planted either by famous personages or to commemorate special events. The oldest and the one which always attracts the attention of those tourists who chance to know about it is the magnificent elm in the capitol park, opposite the senate entrance. It is about 100 feet high and is cov-red with a fine growth of ivy. This tree and another of the same variety, but now dead, were planted a century ago by the first president, and the one now standing is called the "Washington elm." Occupying relatively the same position in the park, but facing the house entrance, is the 'Cameron elm," not because the distinguished Pennsylvanian planted it. but because he pleaded so eloquently for its life when threatened. In the spring of 1892 President Harrison set out two fig trees in the ground south of the executive mansion, and both are doing well, though one has outstripped the other by two feet. A fine sycamore or plane tree, which stands not far from the Lincoln monument in the park of the same name on Capitol hill, is known as the "Thaddeus Stevens tree." The great Pennsylvanian planted it in the stormy days of 1862 in the Botanical gardens, but so often were the grounds overflowed by a quiet appearing little stream rejoicing in the classic name of Tiber that the tree did not flourish, and in 1870 it was removed to its present location. where it has reached an altitude of nearly 100 feet. The largest and most famous collection of trees, and not behind any in beauty, is the historic grove in the Botanical gardens, under the care of Mr. William R. Smith, the superintendent. Mr. Smith has been in charge since the administration of Fillmore, a period so long as to permit him to see the growth of his pets from childhood to adoles cence, if not maturity.

Philadelphia is represented by two splendid cypresses, brought over from the Quaker City by Edwin Forrest, the great tragedian, and John W. Forney, the journalist. Not far from these stands the Albert Pike tree, a cassia, planted by General Pike when occupying the highest position in the Masonic order. A great oak, set out in 1862 by John C. Crittenden of Kentucky, is a superb specimen of the family of trees to which it belongs. There are the Morrill trees, planted respectively by the senators from Maine and Vermont; the Hoar and Vance trees; the Holman tree, set out by the Indiana member more than a quarter of a century ago; the Bayard tree, an oak planted by Mr. Bayard when secretary of state, and, most curious of all, the little six foot high Chinese oak, rejoicing in the triple name of Confucius-Dana-Cummings. The acorn from which it came was picked up on the grave of the great philosopher, sent by a friend to Mr. tion with that force than mortals is Charles A. Dana, and raised by his also a groundless supposition. It has gardener at his place on Long Island, been said their celestial bodies were and planted by Representative Amos > Theory of American Storms. Professor Colbert explains the origin of great storms that move across our country from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard on this theory The moist air from the Pacific. driven up the west slope of the Rockies by the rotation of the earth. is suddenly deprived of its moisture in the cooler altitude. This drying of the air causes a change in specific gravity, and the disturbance produced at once results in a slight rotary current. The revolving mass of air moves onward toward the east, its motion and size constantly increased by the sucking in of warm south winds on its forward edge. These currents from the south drop their moisture from contact with the colder revolving storm, and the sudden lightening of the air by the dropstream on a mill wheel.

Thus the real causes of our great storms lie in the conditions met by these traveling whirlwinds in their regular journey across the country. If they are cold enough and meet with enough moist, hot air in their course, they are set spinning with a velocity that makes a cyclonic storm. -Chicago Journal.

A Curious Blunder. A curious blunder has been brought to light in the staid, classical city of Boston. The new public library building had chiseled upon its granite cornices and surrounding facade a long list of noted inventors. Among the list the name of James Watt, the father of the steam engine, was to have been placed, but imagine the consternation of the Bostonians upon the discovery that Isaac Watts, the great English hymn writer, had been given the place intended for James. -Philadelphia Record.

Homelike.

Papa-Are you sure that you and mamma thought of me while you were away?

Little Grace-Yes. We heard a man just scolding awful about his charge of dynamite to blow up this breakfast, and mamma said that's beefsteak.—Meggendorfer's Blatter. | just like papa.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

SELECTED AN ENEMY AS PROXY. Confederate Sentinel Puts a Prisoner on Guard While He Goes Courting. "A funny war incident occurred down there," said Mr. John W. Woodruff, pointing downward from the Forsyth street bridge to the track running between the bridge and the National hotel. "When Forrest captured Colonel Straight's raiders at Rome, they were brought to Atlanta in box cars and were switched off on that track. As Forrest's men had to return to Rome, a detail from Major Leyden's artillery, then in camp here, was sent down to guard the prisoners. I was a member of the company, and the facts of the case are fresh in my recollection yet. The doors on one side of the cars remained locked, and the doors on the other side were open. In front of each of these doors ne of Leyden's men stood on guard.

"Everything went along smoothly until the relief came around after dark. The officer in charge of the relief squad found to his astonishment that one of the cars was guard ed by a Yankee with a musket.

'Hello! What does this mean? asked the officer.

here wanted to go to see his girl, and he promised me his rations if I would take his place till he came back.' "We took Mr. Yank's musket from him and made him enter the car and stationed one of our men at the door. The fellow had told the truth, as we found out when the absent guard re turned The youngster was fresh and knew nothing about soldiering. He saw no harm in slipping off to see his girl, and, as luck would have it, he had picked out a prisoner who was a man of his word.

"Our comrade would have been se verely punished if his case had been reported, but the boys enjoyed the joke so much that they kept it from Major Leyden until it was safe to let t be known "Wouldn't that Yankee and his friend, the Confederate, have a jolly time if they could meet at some reunion of the blue and the gray? If they are both living, they ought to get together."—Atlanta Constitution.

Interesting Whist Play.

One of the best whist players in Rochester sends to us the hands played by him and his friends at a recent sitting. North dealt and turned the king of spades, and the hands were as follows: East-Spades, 5 and 4; diamonds, a., k., kn.

4 and 3, hearts, a., k., 6, 5 and 2; clubs, a. South—Spades, 9 and 8; diamonds, 10, 6 and 5; hearts, kn., 10 and 9; clubs, q., kn., 7, 6 West-Spades, A and 3; diamonds, 7 and 2; North—Spades, k., q., kn., 10, 7, 6 and 2; diamonds, q., 9 and 8; hearts, q.; clubs, k. and

The score was six apiece, and as North arranged his cards he felt sure of winning the game. He had seven trumps-and they were not "mostly small"—and he had a chance of trick in both clubs and diamonds. But, as a matter of fact, he failed to get even the odd, owing to the skillful play of his epponents.

East took four tricks in succession by leading the king of diamonds, king of hearts, ace of clubs and ace of di monds. Then he led a small diamond, which his partner trumped and the partner, being alive to the situation, led back a small club, which East trumped, returning another diamond, upon which West put his ace of trumps, while North was obliged to throw away a trump then, the odd having been scored against him and the game gone. North, in much disgust, flung down his six good trumps, with sundry remarks not for publica tion.—Rochester Post-Express

Sherman's Humor. It was a common thing for General Sherman to stop his horse and speak | SOCIETY words of encouragement or praise to some subordinate officer or private NEWS soldier struggling at the roadside. He had his humorous side with them too. When the army reached Goldsborough, half the men were in rags. One day a division was ordered to march past him in review. The men were bare legged and ragged, some of them almost hatless.

"Only look at the poor fellows with their bare legs," said an officer at the general's side sympathizingly. "Splendid legs," cried the general, with a twinkle in his eye, "splendid legs. Would give both of mine for any one of them."-McClure's Maga-

A Case In Point.

Of Sergeant Arabin, who had not a clear method of speech, it is related that he said to one criminal, "Prisoner at the bar, if ever there was a clearer case than this of a man rob bing his master, this case is that case." At another time he said, "Prisoner at the bar, you have been found guilty on several indictments, and it is in my power to subject you to transportation for a period very considerably beyond the term of your natural life, but the court, in its mercy, will not go so far as it lawfully might go, and the sentence is that you be transported for two periods of seven years each."-London Globe.

George-Amelia, dear, do you be lieve that love is blind? Amelia-Yes, George, darling. George-Then, dear, I do not see any need of keeping the gas burning.

-Harvard Lampoon.

Subscribe For THE-

CATHOLIC

The only newspaper on the Coast publishing all the Catholic news of the day, both at home and abroad.

"'Oh, it's all right,' replied the Yankee. The young man on duty Price, - $1.50 per year IN ADVANCE

→ A PAPER ←

For the Home and Fireside

→ A PAPER ←

For the Businesa Man

- A PAPER -

For the Clergy

Bright Editorials

> Timely Extracts

> > Pithy News

DEPARTMENTS

THE OLD

DEPARTMENTS FOR

THE YOUNG

PARISH NEWS

IRISH

NEWS

NEWS

News Stands.

Issued Every Saturday Morning

536 Clay Street, San Francisco

5c - Single Copies - 5c

Write for Sample Copies

For Sale at all of the

Agents, and Correspondents wanted in every town on the

he the oldest city in existence 26, 35, 1, 34, 19, 34, became a 3 -24, 21, 27, 2, 3, 32, 5, 1, 146 years

Christian era. 24, 1, 22, 3, 5, 4, 1, 18, during commenced the "golden age o quence and literature." 5, 31, 29, 7, 9, 18, introduced

Greece. 31, 35, 3, 18, 14, 20, 25, 4, 1 Grecian philosopher. 11, 28, 33, 15, 19, a Grecian o. tecture.

4, 1, 16, 17, 3, 29, 31, 18, leade tans when they were defeated row defile of Thermopyle" by under Xerxes, who was at the greatest army the world has e

No. 192.-A Fish Pe 1. The declaration that I dra 2. What a lady prizes high betrothed. 3. A sharp lance 4. An animal and what he b

5. Possessed and a place for a wolf catches him.

6. A fish whose name implied 7. Something found in the h 8. A sullen look. 9. Assistance No. 193.—Transposit A culprit who had laws of the land and had, crimes, been convicted of was sentenced to spend t his days in prison. He laid a discovered the evidences of

in his cell, and the plan frustrated. The culprit was for 30 days as a —— for his b No. 194,-Charade When Mr. Q. first came t Upon the WHOLE he roo There in the best society He took up his abode.

But gradually he "petere To use the street lore pl And on a down hill secon As passed the fleeting d At length his townsfolk f And when their orders w

No. 195 .- Pictorial Ac

If the first letters of the n jects represented above be pl proper order, a word me threads" will be formed. No. 196,-Riddle. I should be sharp if I ar If dull, I'm cast aside; By boys and girls I'm m And yet I am their pi

A part of me is made of
And part in earth is

No. 197.-Progressive E 000-00-0000 1 is "an article." 1, 2, 3, "I an exclamation. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 an exciamation. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 for public worship. 8, 9, 10, at 11, 12, an English measure. 14
The whole is a city in which Bavaria was crowned king of G ty-five emperors have been crecity. There are traces of its early as the time of Casar. No. 198 .- A Poultry Pr I bought some fowls the oth One hundred dollars did I 1 Each turkey did five dollar Each goose did bring but he While chickens, if it must For ten cents each were fr One hundred fowls in all h

Of each how many did I bu

No. 199.-Checkered S

• · • · • · * * * * * * *

For the characters substit read across and downward word meaning a sentry sta outskirts of a camp; the sec zontal and vertical lines, a w striped; the third full horizon cal lines, the name of a ri America; the fourth full horiz tical line, a creature found in

No. 200.-Hidden Cres 1. Have you been to church
2. May I go to play, mother
3. She was put into her roo ishment. 4. There was luggage in the 5. The gardener has nailed to the wall.

What Is It? Mention the name of an obj two heads, one tail, four legand two on the other. A lady

Key to the Puzzle No. 185.-A Patriotic Acros July. No. 186.—The Upright Cork required. No. 187.—Rhomboids:

PARIS TIBE TURIN NAT MILAN SEVER NO No. 188.—A Complete Chang

Wagonet. No. 189.—Hidden Proverb: stools you will fall to the grot No. 190.—Central Deletions b-ar, Fa-r-ce, Ha-s-te, Le-a-st.

No. 191.-Numerical Enigma. 29, 13, 8, 31, 18, 12, 23, 36, said by some to be the oldest city in existence.

26, 35, 1, 34, 19, 34, became a 35, 6, 30, 31, 10 -24, 21, 27, 2, 3, 32, 5, 1, 146 years before the Christian era. 24, 1, 22, 3, 5, 4, 1, 18, during whose reign commenced the "golden age of Grecian eloquence and literature." 5, 31, 29, 7, 9, 18, introduced letters into

11, 28, 33, 15, 19, a Grecian order of archi-

4, 1, 16, 17, 3, 29, 31, 18, leader of the Spar tans when they were defeated at the "nar row defile of Thermopylæ" by the Persians under Xerxes, who was at the head of the greatest army the world has ever seen. No. 192.-A Fish Pond. 1. The declaration that I drag a cask. 2. What a lady prizes highly after she is betrothed. 3. A sharp lance.

4. An animal and what he becomes when a wolf catches him. 5. Possessed and a place for boats.

6. A fish whose name implies reproof. Something found in the henhouse. . A sullen look. 9. Assistance.

No. 193.—Transpositions.

A culprit who had - against the laws of the land and had, among other crimes, been convicted of manslaughter was sentenced to spend the remainder of his days in prison. He laid a plan by which he hoped to escape, but the trusty discovered the evidences of his plan in a - in his cell, and the plan was thereby frustrated. The culprit was put in irons for 30 days as a ——— for his behavior.

> No. 194.—Charade. When Mr. Q. first came to town, Upon the whole he rode. There in the best society He took up his abode.

But gradually he "petered out,"
To use the street lore phrase,
And on a down hill second rode As passed the fleeting days.

At length his townsfolk firm ordained That he must be "dispersed." And when their orders were fulfilled

No. 195 .- Pictorial Acrostic

If the first letters of the names of the objects represented above be placed in their proper order, a word meaning hreads" will be formed.

> No. 196 .- Riddle. I should be sharp if I am used; If dull, I'm cast aside; By boys and girls I'm much abused, And yet I am their pride.
>
> A part of me is made of wood, d part in earth is found And both together firmly glued Are sent the whole world round

No. 197.-Progressive Enigma. 000-00-00000000 1 is "an article." 1, 2, 3, "I excel." 4, 5, an exclamation. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, a house for public worship. 8, 9, 10, an animal. 10, 11, 12, an English measure. 13, a vowel. The whole is a city in which the Duke of Bavaria was crowned king of Germany. Fifty-five emperors have been crowned in this city. There are traces of its existence as early as the time of Cæsar.

No. 198,-A Poultry Problem. I bought some fowls the other day. One hundred dollars did I pay.
Each turkey did five dollars touch;
Each goose did bring but half as much, Vhile chickens, if it must be told, For ten cents each were freely sold One hundred fowls in all had I.

No. 199.-Checkered Square.

For the characters substitute letters, so that the first horizontal and vertical lines, read across and downward, will form word meaning a sentry stationed on the outskirts of a camp; the second full horizontal and vertical lines, a word meaning striped; the third full horizontal and vertical lines, the name of a river in South America; the fourth full horizontal and vertical line, a creature found in every pond.

No. 200.—Hidden Creatures. Have you been to church this morning? 2. May I go to play, mother dear?

. She was put into her room as a pun There was luggage in the train. 5. The gardener has nailed the rose tree

What Is It? Mention the name of an object which has two heads, one tail, four legs on one side and two on the other. A lady on horseback.

Key to the Puzzler. No. 185 .- A Patriotic Acrostic: Fourth of July, No. 186.—The Upright Corks: No answer required. No. 187.—Rhomboids: PARIS TURIN NATAL

MILAN NOVEL SEVER NEVER XEBEC No. 188. - A Complete Change. Tea Gown

Wagonet. No. 189.—Hidden Proverb: Between two stools you will fall to the ground. No. 190.—Central Deletions: Ca-b-in, Dein each town.—Saratoga Dispatch. b-ar, Fa-r-ce, Ha-s-te, Le-a-st.

Fighting a Water Hose Duel.

The hot weather duel in the alley was wet circus. Two groups of newsboys ot hold of two lines of hose and tackled each other with the streams. As fast as me fellow was drowned out another fellow took the butt. There was no wild squirting done. Each fellow that held the hose had to take it. Tenderfoot Dick held out well, but getting it in his face he stooped forward and turned his face sideways. This gave Swipsey a good chance to direct his stream so as to make the water pour down Tenderfoot's back inside his shirt until it filled his pants, when Tenderfoot shuddered and let go. Small Smith grabbed his stream and 31, 35, 3, 18, 14, 20, 25, 4, 1, a celebrated took Swipsey between the eyes. And so they changed from one to another until nearly the whole crew was as wet as rats in a sewer, hair sticking out endthe little bodies. It was a well fought duel, and they had only to stand in the sun a few minutes to get dry again, as the day was an especially warm one. — Detroit News.

New Fad In Diet.

Vegetarians are outdone by a new diet reform prophet, who advocates the eating of natural uncooked foods. His name is Macdonald, and he seems to have gained a small number of adherents in Paris. It is a part of the system he advocates never to eat or drink anything but vegetable foods and natural liquids precisely in the state in which they are found in nature. Hot drinks of all kinds are specially condemned, although it is not quite easy to see how the use of water from natural hot springs would run counter to the principle laid down. Carrots and turnips, beans and potatoes, we must eat raw, it seems, if we value our health, and fruit we must eat just as means that we must not peel an apple is not stated. Mr. Macdonald himself eats raw oatmeal (not oats), which, as a Scotchman, he thinks not only extremely nourishing, but palatable as well. -London Daily News.

A Dramatic Scene.

A dramatic but solemn scene was witnessed at the dedication of a church in Utica, N. Y., a short time ago. Deacon John Schermerhorn, 77 years old, had taken great interest in raising funds for building the new edifice. He was one of the trustees of the church, and at the close of the services the pastor urged him to make a few remarks. He sang two verses of a hymn and closed thus: "I have prayed for this place a great many times. Now I see my prayer answered. Lord, let now thy servant depart in peace. Lord, Jesus, you kown it is all right between thee and me. ' As he finished the sentence Mr. Schermerhorn dropped and immediately expired. Of course there was intense excitement in the congregation over this remarkable answer to prayer for release from life.

Blue Back Salmon For Canning. The run of blue back salmon in the Columbia this season is almost unprecedented. One cannery down the river, where they are packing in large quantities, became overstocked recently, and 131/2 tons of spoiled fish had to be thrown away. The run of chinook is only fair and not up to former years. In former times blue backs were never recognized as fish fit for the table, and fishermen, when they caught them in their nets, usually threw them back into the stream. Now the blue back is a staple product of the cannery.—Portland Oregonian.

A Mosquito Yarn.

The biggest mosquito story of the season comes from a Maine man who says that when he approached his summer cottage the other day he noticed, or he thought he did, that somebody had taken the liberty of painting his door over, but before he had found words suitable for the occasion his wrath turned to dismay on discovering that the change of color was due to the mosquitoes, who were waiting for him to come and let them in. -Lewiston Journal Translation Under Difficulties.

An interesting piece of translation is that of the Russian liturgy into the dilect of the Yakuts of northeastern Siberia, which has just been accomplished by some Russian scholars. The language of the Yakuts is so poor that it can only reckon a total of 200 root words. They have no word for "body" as distinguished from "flesh" and none for "bread." The Lord's Prayer even could not be translated literally.

Convenience In France. The Paris-Lyons railway has just adopted a trifling innovation which American railroads might copy. They have established telegraph boards at the principal stations on which dispatches for passengers or for persons awaiting the arrival of passengers are posted. A traveler who misses a train can wire, in the care of the station master, to the person awaiting his arrival at his desti-

A Presbyterian Administration. This is a Presbyterian administration. The Lamonts, Stevensons, Greshams and Smiths go to Rev. Dr. Bartlett's church on New York avenue. The Thurbers go with the Clevelands to Dr. Sunderland's on Four and a Half street. The Lamonts are particularly rigid Calvinists. Nevertheless the secretary of war himself does not go to church from one year's end to the other. - Washington

Letter. Scissors Grinder on a Bicycle. A novel sight here just now is a scisors grinder who has all the machinery equired in his line of business fastene to the handle bars of a bicycle. This enterprising grinder goes from town to town on his wheel, stopping at farmhouses along the route to sharpen knives and scissors, and he does no little mount of business along the way and

NO ENCOURAGEMENT.

So the Man Who Left Buffalo Moved "My dear man," he began as he stoped a policeman on the Campus Martius to ask a great favor of you—a great fa-

"Well, sir?" was the curt reply. "I left Buffalo for Chicago the other day. I have many reasons for believing that I have arrived in Chicago, but yet a perfidious doubt insists on entering Tribune. ways and shirts and pants clinging to my mind. Now, then, can you see your way clear to telling me whether I am in Chicago or not?" "Of course you are not. You are in Detroit!" "In Detroit? That is a town about half way between Buffalo and Chicago, is it not?

"Yes, sir." "Sometimes called the City o Straits?"

"Yes, sir." "Because it is a town of straight people?"

"What do you want?" queried the officer, leaving the question to take care

"Queer-very queer! I start from Buffalo for Chicago, and I find myself in Detroit. I walk around town for three hours hunting for my friend Doboy of the police force, and, not finding him, a perfidious doubt begins to develop itself. I approach you and ask for information, and I find that Chicago and Doboy are still 280 miles farther nature gives it to us. Whether this toward the setting sun. I can't make it out. Can you?"

"No, sir!" stiffly replied the officer. "Would you call it a case of absentmindedness?

"It might be that." "Or could I have suddenly lost my identity? People do suddenly lose their identity, you know." "I expect they do."

"Hold! Could I have been in that condition known as inebriated?" anxiously asked the stranger. "Very likely!" grimly replied the officer. "Is that all you want to know?" "About all. Stay a moment, however. I spoke of Doboy. He has implicit confidence in me. Should I ask him for a dime with which to"-"Move on, sir!" interrupted the off "Toward Chicago?" "Yes, sir, move on!"

"Move on toward Chicago because of Doboy and that dime?" "Exactly! Move on, or I'll run you "Very well. I move. I move toward Chicago. I decrease the distance be- her studies?" tween myself and Doboy. When I finaly reach him I shall murmur: "Doboy, old man, beware of Detroit, the city of the crooked! Beware of a big, overgrown, hard hearted, avaricious, wabbled kneed, red eyed''-

The officer rushed for him, but his club only beat against a soft, damp shadow of the night.—Detroit Free Press.

An Adult.

A man went into a restaurant the other day and took a seat on a stool. past thim little wurrds, over amoongst He looked at the bill of fare a minute the foor an five syl'bles,' says she. and then beckoned to the waiter. Hav. he said, "gimme some yeal.

"What's that, sir?" asked the waiter as he brushed a lot of crumbs into the man's lap and handed him a glass of water in which his thumb was immers. ed beyond the first joint.

"Gimme some veal."

"Veal?" "Yes, veal."

The waiter wandered off to the kitchen and held an animated conversation with the cook. Pretty soon he came back and put a plate of dark red meat in front of the customer and began to pay close attention to the electric fan

The customer turned the meat over curiously with his fork. He inspected it on both sides. Then he said, "Hay, waiter, come here!"

The waiter walked over and leaned on the counter. "I asked for veal," said the customer inquiringly.

"This hain't veal. It's roast beef." 'Roast beef?'' repeated the waiter in great astonishment.

"Yes, roast beef." The waiter turned to walk away. 'Well,'' he said, "what's roast beef but yeal in its second childhood? You gimme a pain. "-Buffalo Express.

A Professional.

Kitty-Just think, Will Lover has been engaged five times this year! Tom-If he doesn't look out, he'll lose his amateur standing.—Brooklyn

The Poet-You see, I don't want nown that I am a poet. She-But that is no reason why you houldn't sign your name to it.—Life.

Just the Thing. Rimester-I don't seem to understan this poem I have just finished myself. Demanding His Rights.

"Prisoner," said the judge, ou any counsel?" "I haven't, your honor," answered the man on trial for stealing a ham.

'I haven't got any money.' "Then the court will appoint Mr. Leggy to defend you." The prisoner looked at the skinny, squint eyed, stoop shouldered pettifogger pointed out by the court and rose to enter a protest. "Judge," he said, "I'm entitled, acthe midnight the other night, "I want cordin to law, to a trial by a jury of my peers, ain't I?"

'You are," replied the court. "Then, your honor," rejoined the prisoner, drawing a shiny coat sleeve across his nose, "I think I ort to have a lawyer of the same kind."-Chicago

-Fliegende Blatter.

Spelling Her Strong Point

"How's little Celia getting on at school?" inquired a visitor of Mrs. Murphy. "Is she making progress with "Faith, mum, an she is, thin," responded Mrs. Murphy, with her arms akimbo. "The way that choild skips ahead jist beats all, mum. Now, there's spelling-'twas only last noight her fayther was afther wroitin a letter to the man he's goin to wurrk for next week. an he says to Cely, says he, 'How do you spell ayther?' says he, 'Is it a-yt-h-e-r, or is it a-y-t-h-u-r?' "An Cely, she says, 'Wait till Oi git me book, fayther, for it's meself is away

"An she brought her book an showed her fayther an me where she was studyin the noight, an, thruly, there she was at page siventy-wan, an all the little wurrds way behind her. 'Oi misthrust mebbe spellin is her sthrong p'int," said Mrs. Murphy, modestly. "Av course it w'u'dn't be in nater for the choild to go l'aping along loike that wid all her studies. It was aboove half an hour, mum, before she an her fayther found the wurrd they was huntin for, way back among the first twinty pages, mum. An there was our little Cely studyin at page siventywan!"-Boston Journal.

Time to Stop.

Under the machinery of the law as a present administered a lawyer has great advantages over a witness. Recognition of this fact is probably the reason why people always enjoy seeing a witness get the better of his examiner.

An exchange reports a case in which the plaintiff had testified that his financial position had always been good. The opposing counsel took him in hand for cross examination and undertook to break down his testimony upon this point. "Have you ever been bankrupt?"

asked the lawyer.
"I have not," was the answer. "Now, be careful. Did you ever stop payment?"

"Yes. "Ah, I thought we should get at it finally. When did that happen?" "After I had paid all I owed."-Youth's Companion.

Intensely Occupied "Don't bothah me, please," said hawles to a friend who had addressed im. "I cawn't answer any questions. Weally I'm getting bwain fag as it is." "What's the matter?" "My doctah awsked me yesterday ow many cigawettes I smoked in a day, and I'm busy counting them for him. Washington Star. Not to Be Fooled. Domestic-Where shall I take this rescription, mum? Mrs. Sharpeye-Anywhere except to Pillbox & Co.'s. Their goods are not fresh. I bought a postage stamp of them vesterday, and it was last year's issue -New York Weekly.

At the Colored Poker Club Ball. Master of Ceremonies-Whar ouah escort, Miss Snowball? Miss Snowball—He am gone home but I specks him back every minute. He dun forget his razor. - New York.

PERSONAL GOSSIP

The Prince of Wales has 17 brothers-in-law, 16 uncles, 57 cousins and 58 hephews and nieces. Senator Walsh of Georgia is doing everything in his power to enlist general interest in the Atlanta exposition of General G. W. Custis Lee has presented to the Washington and Lee university the piano that belonged to his father, General Robert E. Lee. Mr. White of Greenwood county, Kan., has a daughter named Snow That is as bad as Mr. Button of Fort Scott, who has a daughter named Pearl.

William R. Smith, superintendent of the botanical gardens of Washington, has, it is said, directed the planting of over 6,000,000 trees in the United "To meet my son-in-law, the earl,"

s the very high and lofty reading on the notes of invitation received by the Bradley-Martin contingent who receive invitations to house parties at Balma-Miss Sophie A. Nordhoff, a former student of medicine at Washington, according to foreign papers, has been appointed a physician at the famous womn's clinic of Professor von Winkel in Jean Jacques Sebatier, aged 102; Victor Baillod and Jean Bousset, each 101, and Joseph Rose, aged 100, are believed by a French newspaper that has made the inquiry to be the only survivors of Napoleon's grand army. Mrs. Mary Greene, who celebrated her one hundred and second birthday a few days ago at Swampton, R. I., has lived for over 75 years in her present home, which is within two miles of the house in which she was born. Dr. C. H. S. Davis of Meriden, Conn. s said to have one of the finest libraries in the state of Connecticut. Dr. Davis is the editor of Biblia, a monthly journal of Biblical and archæological literature, and a joint editor of Ancient Egypt.

Lady and Lord Terence Blackwood have an income of only about $15,000 not a large sum for milord and milady. The great part of this comes from the settlement made upon his daughter by Mr. Davis, as Lord Terence had only about $1,500 a year of his own.

BOOKMAKING.

Types for the Greek alphabet were fist cast by Aldus in 1476. The first Bible printed with a date was finished by Faust in 1462.

Tpyesetting machines were suggested for book work as early as 1842. Vellum first came into use as a material for bookbinding about 1510. The library of Gottingen has a Bible written on palm leaves. There are 5,878 pages, each made of a single leaf.

Earthenware bricks or tiles with characters engraved or stamped on them were undoubtedly the first books. The first known example of bookbinding in boards in the modern style was a Latin psalter in the ninth century.

Some of the early printed books, in order to imitate manuscripts, had the initials and borders painted by hand. Roman books were often composed of a number of pages of wood strung together with a cord passed through a hole in the corner of each block. Parchment was in occasional use from the earliest times, came into general use about 200 B. C., and continued until the invention of printing. All the English kings, from Henry to Edward VI, took the coronation oath on a manuscript copy of the four evangelists bound in oak boards an inch thick. This book was made in 1100. Book sewing machines, to do the work of fastening together the sheets of which a book is composed, were introduced in 1872. Before that time all books were sewed by hand. The book sewing machine reduced the cost about one-half. -St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE FASHION PLATE.

Double skirts are seen on some of the New parasols are made of insertion and silk, with very full ruffles. Elbow sleeves are growing more popular, and we are threatened with a vis itation of the short sleeve mania.

Striped flannel is used for bathing suits, and plain flannel in white, blue or red is trimmed with very wide white

A striking costume is made of putty colored cloth. The skirt is cut in little buttonhole slits, and cardinal or ruby velvet is threaded in and out. Large buttons are worn if one fancies them. Indeed one may wear almost anything that suits one's particular figure or face, provided it is natty, stylish and becoming. Pointed waists are growing in favor, and many of them have soft folds of the material or of some contrasting fabric around the lower edge of the bodice, with a bow, buckle or rosette to finish the point in front. The figaro jacket of embroidery or lace is worn with dresses of all sorts. A modification of this style, which really amounts to a trimming, shows the jacket fronts with sections of the material merely meeting over the shoulders.

Bathing costumes occupy the attention of many of the fashionables. A novelty is made of bright red serge with sleeves and waist trimmed with white. A white sash with embroidered and fringed ends is knotted about the waist.—New York Ledger.

STAGE GLINTS

Jessie Haines will play the part of a ough girl in "On the Bowery.

George Monroe will shelve "My Aunt Bridget" next season and try fortune with a new piece on the same lines. A copy of the third folio of Shakespeare was bought by Mr. Natalli at a sale in London recently for £435, or $2,175.

Thomas W. Keene will next season have a practically new company. His tour will be under the management of Edwin Arden.

Marlo and Dunham, the well known triple horizontal par performers, are soon to separate. Dunham intends to join the Jordan family of acrobats.

James J. Corbett and the members of his company have organized a baseball club that is defeating nines all through the English provinces. Corbett is the shortstop. Miss Linda da Costa has been engag ed as prima donna of the company which

C. B. Jefferson and Klaw & Erlanger are organizing to present Palmer Cox's Brownies. Mme. Emma Juch will emerge from her private life as Mrs. Wellman at the Worcester musical festival on Sept. 27 and 28. She will sing as leading prima donna at both the concerts in an oratorio. Mme. Julie L. Wyman, the mezzo soprano, is to return to this country in the autumn. Mrs. Wyman has been singing in France and was heard there in "Samson et Delila," Saint-Saen's

F. N. Innes, the bandmaster, has just completed "a descriptive spectacle," giving a musical history of the civil war, which he proposes to present during the tour he will begin with his band on Aug. 14.

One successful play very often makes the fortune of its author. William Haworth was a struggling actor until "The Ensign' was produced. He tried for two years to dispose of it, but nearly everybody thought the big man-of-war scenes could not be handled effectively on the stage.

TURF TOPICS.

The life of a nervous, high strung racer means abstinence, hard exercise and the cold grueling of steel and catgut. The carriage horse is to the racer what the alderman is to the athlete. Both may be pure blooded, but the one is a Sybarite and the other a Spartan. At Jerseyville, Ills., July 10 the yearling colt Jasper furnished a sensation by pacing a second heat, half mile,

Almost every race horse has vices more or less troublesome which may effect the result of a race and which must les for at Saratoga are called, has been laid out in four avenues, the names of which are Lamplighter, Bourke Cockran, Trouat Saratoga are called, has been laid out A banner with a denunciation of racing carried on to the course at Ascot by be constantly guarded against.

Salvationists was torn to rags and tram pled under foot, and some of its supporters were badly treated. Dolma-Bagtohe, the colt that beat Matchbox for the grand prize of Paris, lost his dam when he was very young and had to be reared on jenny's milk, which is very nutritious and easily digested. A French speculator took a bet of $30,000 to $60 that he could not name the winners of the French Oaks, French Derby, Grand Steeplechase and Grand Prix. He named the four and landed the money. —Horseman.

ODDS AND ENDS. The Hindoos are passionately fond of horse racing, and a race will practically close all business.

The ancients entertained the idea that the dew was distilled upon the earth by the moon and stars. In the sixteenth century no lady was considered in full dress unless she wore a small oval mirror on her breast. In Sydney it is the fashion to keep the bodies of the dead till Sunday in order to insure a large attendance at the In the year 1261 a tithe was laid reach of all. upon all whales' tongues brought into Bayonne, they being at that time highly esteemed as food. In Persia the women of fashion paint black circles around each eye and ornament the cheeks with figures of various small animals, bugs, etc. At the funeral of an unmarried woman in Brazil scarlet is the mourning hue. The coffin, the hearse, the trappings of the horses and the livery of the driver must be scarlet. NOVELTIES.

An almond dish patterned after a oyster shell and lined with gold and a spoon whose handle resembles a twig of coral are fashionable table utensils.

Miniature tusks of ivory bound with bands of gold and caught in the center

by a slender gold chain form the latest design in link cuff buttons, and a pretty one it is. The duchess silk girdle, mounted with a hand painted medallion of Psyche on a buckle of silver filigree work, has come forth as an aspirant for

The old adage, "Raining pitch-forks," has furnished an appropriate design for the decoration of an umbrells handle. In silver deposits are depicted falling pitchforks placed alternately with raindrops along the handle.

One of the daintiest of ladies' chate laine watches is completely incrusted with white daisies in enamel. The stem is a daisy, and a large daisy covers the center of the dial on the background of blue. The numerals are in etched gold.

Agents Wanted

RIGHT, ENERGETIC. ACtive Agents can make a good living by canvassing for

THE California Catholic

Boys and Girls after school hours can earn plenty of spending money by inducing their friends to become subscribers

THE California Catholic

Members of Catholic societies can increase the interest of other members in the special work of each one by securing subscribers in their several bod-

THE Horse Haven, as the training grounds Catholic

Sample copies sent free to * any address on receipt of a postal card.

Write for them and for terms, visit your friends, and see how quickly they will subscribe after reading a number.

A liberal commission will be paid to all undertaking the work. The subscription price, $1.50 per year, places it in the

Send 25 cents in coin or postage stamps and you can secure THE CALIFORNIA CATHO-LIC for two months. Less than 3 cents a number. Who can afford to do without a Catholic newspaper at the price?

WRITE AT ONCE TO

THE California Catholic

San Francisco

536 Clay St.,

THAT TIRED FEELING.

I'm tired of infant prodigies, Now, tell me, are not you?

I'm tired of weather prophecies
That always miss their cue.
I'm tired of buying goods marked down
Way down their cost below: f building lots outskirting town That double value so.

I'm tired of ladies who remain Of maids who sing, yet plead and feign To have indeed no voice; Of girls who never novers buy, So classical are they;
Of youth just home from college high,
Who knows it all—his way.

I'm tired (oh. have you never been?) Of folks reminding me
Their shoes are one size larger than
They really ought to be;
Of would be poets seeking fame By harping "gentle spring." Upon this list stands first the name

I'm tired of seeing ballet twirls By girls whose sons can vote;
Of seeing fluffy, golden curls
That peroxide denote;
Of clerks who know before I ask The very thing I want; Of would be friends who 'neath the mask

Of bluntness hurl the taunt I'm tired of fatal accident By gun unloaded quite; Of tonic, "surely heaven sent," That puts all ills to flight; Of drivers and of motorme Who never look my way; And quite forgets to pay.

I'm tired of hearing old folks prate O'er days perfection fraught;
Of never hearing, lose or take,
Of raffle tickets bought;
Of all these things and many more I'm tired as tired can be, And as all rhymsters are a bore

I know you're tired of me. -New Orleans Picayune. A TRICYCLE FOR TWO

A street organ was playing "A Bicycle Made For Two," and as we listened sadly and wondered how long England would be permitted to be the refuge of anarchists and organ grinders the colonel remarked to no one in particular: "A bicycle made for two may do well enough in this country, but if you Britishers had ever seen Professor Van Wagener's tricycle made for two you would never think of singing about any kind of bicycle.

"I think I was telling you the other day," continued the colonel, "about Professor Van Wagener, the great electrical sharp, who used to live next door to me in New Berlinopolisville. A mighty clever man he was in many other directions than that of electricity. He was always inventing something. I have known that man to get up at 4 o'clock on a winter's morning and invent straight along till noon. Show him a piece of machinery, I don't care what it might be, and he would instantly go to work to improve it. "I had a reaping machine in my field, and one day the professor happened to see it. Nothing would satisfy him but to put an attachment to that machine so that it would gather the straw into bundles and tie them neatly around the middle with ropes which were to be twisted out of straw with a second attachment to the machine. He worked at that idea for several months until he got it to suit him. Then he built a brand new machine with his two atachments and tools it into my field to exhibit it. He was so proud of it that he sent out written invitations to about all his acquaintances to come and see it, and he told me that this time he had made an invention that was going to make his fortune and give him a reputation that would lie over any other man's, except perhaps George Washington's.

The machine was a big, clumsy looking affair and was run by a horse that had a sort of stall in about the middle of it, where he couldn't play any tricks and where the machine couldn't play any tricks on him. The professor had his wife with him and his wife's cousin, who was a very pretty girl, though I don't believe Van Wagener ever noticed that anything was pretty unless it was some sort of scientific apparatus. The horse was started up, and the machine began to reap and to tie up bundles of straw, just as the professor said it would do. His wife's cousin wanted to see just how the thing worked, so he took her alongside of the machine, and before they fairly knew what was the matter the machine had tied the professor and the girl into a bundle and tied them so tight that they could hardly breathe. Naturally the people who had been invited to see the machine work rushed up to help the professor and the young woman, and presently that machine had most of the leading citizens of New Berlinopolisville tied up in neat bundles and lying around on the ground calling for help, except such of them as had been wrapped round with straw and were too nearly suffocated to speak. The machine kept on its way, seeking for more citizens and more straw, until some man had sense enough to stop the horse and so put an end to the performance. There isn't any manner of doubt that it was a talented machine, but when the leading citizens had been set free they seemed very much prejudiced against it. Some of them were for killing the profess or, and some of them were for killing the horse, but they finally compro-mised and arranged their differences by smashing the machine into scrap iron and informing the professthat if he ever calculated build another one he had blame them very much, for when a man is violently tied up with some other man whom he doesn't particularly like or with some other man's wife, knowing all the time that the woman's husband is spry with his weapons and unwilling as a general rule to argue a matter until after he has got done shooting, it stands to reason that he won't feel particularly friendly to the machine that has done the tying. I never heard any more about that machine from the professor, and it's my belief that when his wife got him home she let him know that he couldn't be tied up in the same bundle with a good looking cousin without inviting the just indignation of a virtuous and devoted wife.

"Another time the professor was taking a drive with me in my buggy, and it struck him as a bright idea that the bit and reins ought to be su | of applying it to a bicycle, had perseded by electricity. So he goes to work and invents a new way of | two, and fitted his engine to that. driving a horse by pressing buttons instead of pulling on the reins. | machine for 12 hours at a speed of 15 He had wires running from the seat of his wagon to different carry two persons weighing in the parts of the horse. You pressed aggregate 500 pounds with perfect one button, and the horse got a ease. When the machine was all finshock on the right side of his ished, the professor wheeled it out face that made him turn to the left. of the yard and down to a turn in the You pressed another button, and a road where Mrs. Wagener couldn't shock on the left cheek turned him to the right. A wire connecting with his tail was used to stir him up instead of a whip, and a strong current | said that he should never try experisent into his fore legs was expected to make him stop dead still whenever | as she could prevent it. Just as the it was turned on. All these currents came from a battery under the seat of the wagon, and the buttons that turned them on were let into the seat on either side of the driver. "Van Wagener took his wife out to drive in this new style of wagon

all appearances it worked very well.

drug store, which was our leading

drug store at the time, though afterward the proprietor was crusaded by the Women's Christian Temperance union, who smashed all his whisky bottles and knocked out the heads of his whisky barrels and left nothing in his establishment except a few medicine bottles and a little perfumery. Well, as I was saying, the professor stopped in front of the drug store, and Mrs. Van Wagener climbed down and bought some mustard plasters or something of the sort and then climbed into the wagon again. She was a middling heavy woman, which was a little strange, considering how strict she was in matters of morality and religion, for started to shut off the current and your strict woman is nearly always more or less bony, and she sat down on the seat with considerable force and directly on the top of about half the electric buttons, she having forgot all about them. The horse couldn't quite understand the signals, but when he felt a current setting up his spine, and another in his left cheek, and another in his right cheek, he saw that as a matter | ing that Van Wagener could do had of self respect he ought to kick that wagon to flinders, and accordingly | The engine was working for all it he started in to do it. The professor yelled to him to whoa, and he turned | working according to contract. When on all his electricity at once, hoping | the tricycle struck the level ground, to shock the horse into some sort she slowed down to about 18 miles an of paralysis, but it didn't work. The horse just kicked the whole front of her more power than he had intended the wagon into smithereens, and when he struck the battery and spilt the acids over his legs he remembered that he had an engagement in the next county, and he started to keep it at a pace of about 30 miles an | had taken keeps descending all the hour. It didn't much matter to the professor and his wife, who had been scattered all over the neighborhood when the horse's heels first struck the seat, but when they came to and Smith had plastered them up with brown paper and arnica Van Wagener remarked that in his opinion unscientific animal.' The colonel paused and pulled his hat down over his eyes, as was his custom when he had finished speaking and desired to smoke in silence. He was reminded by Thompson that, however interesting his recollections of Professor Van Wagener might be, they had not yet included the promised account of the tricycle made for horses were played out, and that in this age electricity ought to be made to take the place of such a grossly

"Beg your pardon, gentlemen," said the colonel. "I clean forgot about suspected that something was wrong. that. The truth is, when I get to re- The professor told her that he was membering about the professor's inventions, there are so many of them that I generally forget the particular | they had middling good luck he calone I started out to tell about. It's culated that they wouldn't come the same way with this hyer village to any great harm. The widow of London. I've started out half a dozen times to go to see the Tower, | flected that she had on her best pair and I strike so many things that in- of shoes and stockings and declared terest me that I have never yet got | that if there was to be an accident there. Take your cigar shops, for she would have to make the best of behind the age, and when I go into less chance there seemed to be of one I get talking with the proprietor | running into anything, for the teams and trying to show him the error of | that the professor and Mrs. Dumfries his ways, till first I know it's too late | did meet mostly went into the ditch to go anywhere. When bicycles and tricycles came to | to run into them. The professor, be-New Berlinopolisville, the professor ing a kind hearted man and dislikwas mightily interested in them. Not | ing profane language, was considerathat he admired them, but because, bly troubled when he saw a horse as he said, they were unscientific. He and buggy, or maybe a pair of horses demonstrated with not more than half and loaded wagon pile up in the a slateful of figures that it took more ditch and heard the remarks that the exertion to drive a bicycle a mile driver made—that is, in those cases than it would take to run that mile where he was in a condition to make with a man's own legs. There was remarks, but he couldn't stop to exbetter dig his grave first and sit close no getting around his figures. They plain or apologize. to the edge of it. I can't say that I proved that a man weighing 140 "It was about 90".

pounds and driving an ordinary bicycle at the rate of 10 miles an hour consumed, say, 500 foot pounds of energy-if anybody knows what that means, and I don't much believe anybody does. Well, the same man could run a mile with the consumption of only 400 pounds, leaving a surplus of 100 pounds for the benefit of the poor. 'If these young fellows that I see on bicycles had any sense,' said Van Wagener, 'they would drive their machines by electricity and avoid the awful consumption of energy.' No sooner had this idea struck him than he proceeded to invent an electric engine for bicycles, and in the course of the summer he had his invention worked out to his own satisfaction. "The engine and storage battery took up a good deal of space, and so the wise professor, instead built a big tricycle, with seats for He calculated that it would drive the miles on a level, and that it would see him and made ready for a start. You see, his wife was prejudiced against his inventions and always ments with new inventions so long professor was climbing aboard the tricycle, Widow Dumfries comes along, and being young and full of spirits, besides being a mighty sociable sort of woman, she told Van Wagener that it looked mighty selfish for him to start out alone, and that if he want-He stopped in front of Dr. Smith's machine. The professor never could say no, except to another scientific person, and so he told Mrs. Dumfries to get into the front seat and he would take her down to her house, which was about a quarter of a mile down the road. "The machine went along all right and the professor worked his way cautiously along the main street with his brake on most of the time, but as soon as he got in the outskirts of the town he turned on the full current and let her whiz. The widow was delighted and said that she had never enjoyed anything half so much in all her life. Pretty soon the machine came to a middling steep descent in the road, and the professor put on his brake. But there was something wrong about his levers. He couldn't shut off the current to save his life, and when he put the brake hard on, hoping that it would stop the thing, the brake broke.

"They tell me that the tricycle went down that hill at about 60 miles an hour-that is, after it got well under headway, you understand. Nothany effect in slowing it down. was worth, and she meant to keep on to give her. There weren't any hills or any ascents worth mentioning for the machine to climb, for Berlinopolisville is about 600 feet above the lake, and the road that the professor

"When the professor found that he couldn't stop the tricycle, he was a pretty badly frightened man. He couldn't possibly throw himself off without mixing himself all up with the wheels and breaking most of his bones. Besides, he couldn't desert the widow in any such way as that. You may ask why he didn't turn the machine round and steer for home. The reason was that he couldn't possibly turn it at the speed it was running without capsizing the whole concern. The only thing he could possibly do was to keep in the middle of the road and let the machine run till the power was exhausted, which if he had made no mistake in his calculation wouldn't be less than 12 hours.

at first, but after a little while she sorry to say that he couldn't stop the tricycle, but if she sat tight and wasn't easily frightened. She re-

"Mrs. Dumfries enjoyed the thing on one side of the road or the other "But about this hyer tricycle. before the tricycle had a chance

"It was about 9 o'clock in the morning when the tricycle started, and about 2 o'clock Mrs. Dumfries was about as tired and as hungry as they make 'em. She called to the professor and asked him to tell her the truth about the time it would take the machine to run down. He told her that, if he hadn't made any miscalculation, she would run till about 9 o'clock that night, but that it was a bright moonlight night, and he thought everything would go well unless there should happen to be a turnpike gate on the road, and it should happen to be closed. At that the widow broke down, and leaning back with her head on the profess or's waistcoat fainted away. All he could do was to hold her tight with one arm, so that she couldn't slip off the machine, and to steer with the other hand. Just then he began to meet friends and acquaintances. He afterward told me that it seemed as if there was a procession of them coming up the road, and before they went off into the ditch they all recognized the professor, and he heard several of them say: 'Why, that there ain't Mrs. Van Wagener! Well, I never would have thought it!' or similar remarks, showing a want of confidence in the professor's motives. He tried to call out to two or three people whom he knew very well that the machine had run away with him. but they mostly misunderstood him, and said when they got back to town that Van Wagener had up and told them in so many words that he was running away with the widow.

Helen-Why?

"Night came along, and the moon came up, but the road was lined with trees, and it was fair to middling dark. Mrs. Dumfries had come to long before this, but she had lost her temper and told the professor he was a brute, and that her brothas soon as he got it perfected, and to ed to be real accommodating he er would settle with him for his would give her a little ride on his outrageous conduct. Once a man hailed the tricycle and ordered it to stop, and finding that it would not stop fired three revolver shots after it without, however, doing any harm. Once the machine ran into an old woman, who was crossing the road and was either deaf or blind, but there wasn't very much of her, and the tricycle went over her like a horse taking a low fence. If it hadn't been for the excitement of the ride and the thought of what the consequences would probably be when Mrs. Van Wagener should come to know about it, the professor would probably have dropped exhausted, for he wasn't a very strong man. However, he held out well, and about 9 o'clock, just as the machine was approaching a tav ern that stood alongside of the road the current gave out, and the tricycle stopped.

"There wasn't any other house nearer than four miles, and there was the professor and Mrs. Dumfries nearly 200 miles from New Berlinopolisville, and about as tired, and about as hungry and about as mad as any two people ever were. Of course they had to stop at the tavern till morning, and it took them two more days to get home, partly by stage and partly by rail. When they did get home, the professor found that Mrs. Van Wagener had gone to her mother's, leaving word with a neigh bor that she should begin proceed hour, for the professor had given ings for a divorce at once, and that the widow's brother had started out with his winchester rifle, remarking to the professor's friends that they could make arrangements for the fu neral at once, and that he would send the body on to them at their expense if they so desired.

"The end of it all was that I went to see the widow, and then I hunted up Mrs. Van Wagener and finally explained things so that the professor's wife came back again, and the widow's brother allowed that he was satisfied that it was a case which didn't require any shooting. But after that you could never get the professor to listen to the word tricycle, which was a pity, for in my opinion there was a fortune in that invention of his if it had been properly put on the market. But that's the way with these scientific men. When they make a good invention, they don't know it, and when they invent something that is of no earthly use they spend their

To Refresh the Tired Body. After a fatiguing tramp the tired body should be prepared for restful sleep by a careful toilet. If there is no convenience for a plunge bath, the body should be sponged off with warm water containing a few drops of ammonia-if the feet can be left in a foot bath for 10 or 15 minutes, it will be all the better-rub very thoroughly with a Turkish towel, and last of all refresh the face, neck and arms by spraying with rose water, toilet vinegar or any favorite toilet instance. Why, they are 50 years it. The longer the ride lasted the water. Brush the dust off the hair and wipe it with a towel, gargle the throat with salt and water and clean the teeth, and last of all, just before lying down, take a drink of hot water or lemonade. Sweet, restful sleep should follow this regimen and prepare you to awaken on the new day fit, mentally and physically, for any duty or pleasure that awaits you .-Demorest's Magazine.

The Unusual. Edith-My dressmaker, Mme. Manalini, must be losing all her trade.

Edith-She sent my new dress home the day it was promised .-Philadelphia Press.

50% SAVED

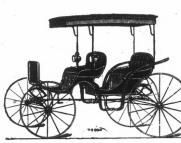

VEHICLES AND HARNESS Send for Catalogue

Harness for $8 per Set, and upw'ds

No. 11A. Price $20.00

We Ship to all parts of the Pacific Coast. Our goods are Superior to many High-priced ones. WE GUARANTEE SATISFACTION.

California Wagon and Carriage Co.

36½ to 44½ FREMONT STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

WHEN AT LOS BANOS BE SURE AND STOP AT

he Los Banos Hotel

HARRY THORNTON, Proprietor Rates, $1.50 to $2.50 per day Excellent Service

PRINTING COMPANY

536 CLAY STREET

bottom dollar trying to get people to take an interest in it."—W. L. Alden Dr. THOMAS L. HILL Dentist.

Office, ODD FELLOW'S BUILDING, S. W. Cor. 7th & Market Sts OFFICE HOURS: 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Consultation Hour: 4 to Railroad Exchange HOTEL. Opposite Southern Pacific Depot.

STRICTLY FIRST CLASS-Terms reasonable Table not to be excelled. Sample Room for Commercial Travelers. COPLEY & NEVILLE, Proprietors. Kings City, Cal.

SANTA - CLARA COLLEGE Santa Clara - - - Cal

Classes Will Be Resumed

AUGUST 7, 1894. REV. JOS. W. RIORDAN, S. J., President.

SAN FRANCISCO & NORTH PACIFIC

RAILWAY CO. TIBURON FERRY-FOOT OF MARKET ST. San Francisco to San Rafael.

Week Days -7:40, 9:20, 11:00 a.m.; 12:35, 3:30, 5:10, 6:30 p.m. Thursdays Exta trip at 11:30 p.m. Saturdays - Exta trip at 11:30 p.m. Sundays - Exta trip at 11:30, 3:30, 5:00, 6:20 p.m. San Rafa I to San Francisco.

WREE DAYS-6:25, 7:55, 9:30, 11:10 a.m.: 12:45, 3:40, 5:10 p.m. Saturdays-Extra trips at 1:55 and 6:30 p.m. Sundays-8:10, 9:40, 11:10 a.m.; 1:40, 3:40, 5:00 6:25 p.m. Between San Francisco and Schuetzen Park—Same schedule as above. Special Saturday to Mond y Train Service. at Cloverdale at 8:45 p.m.
Jundays—Leave San Francisco at 5:10 p.m.; arrive at Cloverdale at 8:45 p.m.
Jundays—Leave San Francisco at 5:00 p.m.; arrive at Cloverdale at 8:38 P.M. UNDAYS—Leave Cloverdale at 6:45 A.M.: arrive at San Francisco at 10:40 A.M.

MONDAYS—Leave Cloverdale at 5 A.M; arrive at San Francisco at 8:50 A.M.

Leave		In Effect	Arrive
San Francisco.		April 15, '94.	San Francisco.
Week	Sun.	DESTINA-	Sun-	Week
Days.	Days.		Days.	Days.
7.40 am	8 00 am	Novato	10.40 am	8.50 am
3.30 pm	9 30 am	Petaluma	6.05 pm	10.30 am
5.10 pm	5.00 pm	Santa Rosa	7.30 pm	6.15 pm
7.40 am	8.00 am	Fulton Windsor Healdsburg Geyserville	7.30 pm	10.30 am
3.30 pm		Cloverdale Pieta Hopland Ukiah		6 15 pm
7.40 am 3.30 pm	8.00 am	Guerneville	7.30 pm	10.30 am 6.15 m
7.40 am	8.00 am	Sonoma	10.40 am	8.50 am
5.10 pm	5 00 pm	Glen Ellen	6.05 pm	6.15 pm
7.40 am	8.00 am	Sebastopol	10.40 am	10.30 am
3.30 pm	5.00 pm		6.05 pm	6.15 pm

Stages connect at Santa Rosa for Mark West Springs.
Stages connect at Geyserville for Skaggs Springs, Stewart's Point, Gualala and Point Arens.
Stages connect at Cloverdale for the Geysers Stages connect at Pieta for Hig hland Springs, Kelseyville, Soda Bay, Lakeport and Bartlett Springs, Stages connect at Ukiah for Vichy Springs, Saratoga Springs, Blue Lakes, Upper Lake, Lakeport, Booneville, Greenwood, Orr's Hot Springs, Mendocino City, Fort Bragg, Usal, Westport, Cahto, Willetts, Calpella, Pomo, Potter Valley, John Day's, Lierley's, Gravelly Valley, Harris, Elocksburg, Bridgeville, Hydesville and Eureka.

Sturday to Monday round-trip tickets at reduced rates. On Sundays Round-trip tickets to all points be ond San Rafael at half ates.

Ticket office, corner New Montgomery and Market treets, under Palace Hotel. H. C. WHITING, Gen. Manager.

Seattle Centra orner Sixth and Washington Street

FURNISHED ROOMS

All Light and Well Ventilated. Per Day, 25c and 50c; Week, $1 50 and $2; Month, $5 and $6.

SUITES, $8 and $10 per Month House contains 160 rooms recently furnished at a cost of $20,000.

Elegant Offices and Parlors in con-Electric Lights and Bells, Free Barhs Telephone and all Modern

Co veniences. R oms unsurpassed for Elegance can and European plans.

Free Carriage to the Hotel. Give us a call and be convinced.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY 'PACIFIC SYSTEM.)

TRAINS LEAVE AND ARE DUE TO ARRIVE AT SAN FRANCISCO

5221 2222102500.
	III-6AAA-14ASIA - III III-4AAA - III III
LEAVE-	From May 5, 1894.	-ARRIVE
	Atlantic Express for Ogden and East	6:45A
	Benicia, Vacaville, $Rumsey, Sac- ram'to and Redding, via Davis	7:15P
	Martinez, San Ramon, Napa, Cal- istoga and *Santa Roa	6:15p
8:30A	Niles, San Jose, Los Banos, Stock- ton, Ione, Sacramento, Marys- ville, Red Bluff and *Oroville.	4:15p
9:00A	New Orleans Express, Santa Bar- bara, Los Angeles, Deming, El
9.00	Paso, New Orleans a. Fast Martinez and Stockton	5:45P
*9:00A	Peters and Milton	*7:15P
12:30P		8:45A *9:00P
	Martinez, San Ramon, Vallejo, Napa, Calistoga, El Verano and
4:GOP	Santa Rosa	9:15A

Landing, Marysville, Oroville and Sacramento.

4:3.P Niles San Jose, Livermore, Stockton, Modesto, Merced, Fresno.

4:30P Raymond (for Yosemite).

5:60P Los Angeles Express, Fresno, Bakersfield, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles.

5:00P Santa Fe Route, Atlantic Express for Mojave and East...

6:00P European Mail, Ogden and East...

6:00P Haywards, Niles and San Jose...

7:00P Vallejo... 10:45A

17:00P Vallejo.... 7:00P Oregon Express, Sacramento, Marysville, Rédding, Portland, Puget Sound and East...

SANTA CRUZ DIVISION (Narrow Gauge.) Cruz and Way Stations.

'2:45 P Newark, Centerville, San Jose,
New Almaden, Felton, Boulder
Creek, Santa Cruz and Principal Way Stations.

4:45 P Newark, San Jose, Los Gatos.

COAST DIVISION (Third and Townsend Sts.) '6:45 A San Jose, New Almaden and Way Stations. '7: OA San Jose, Santa Cruz, Pacific Grove and Principal Way Sta-

CREEK ROUTE FERRY.

A for Morning. P for Afterneon. Sundays excepted. †Saturdays only. ‡Sundays of § Monday, Wednesday and Friday only. §§ [Going—Saturday as d Sunday only. §§ [Returning—Sunday and Monday only.

THE BERKELEY

(Center Street)

Livery, Sale, Boarding. Berkeley Station. Berkeley, Cal. Livery Rigs of all Kinds, HACKS AT ALL HOURS,

Day & Night at Short Notice Restaurant in connection, Ameri- Best Accommodation for Boarders Transient Trade Solicited.

Telephone 1730. Charges Reasonable. H. M. WATERBURY, Prop.